

DOCTOR'S WIFE 1ST OF 125 WHO DONATE BLOOD TO RED CROSS

Approximately 125 residents of Gettysburg and Adams county kept "an appointment to save a life" here today by giving one pint of blood apiece to the Red Cross blood donor service.

The volunteer blood donors reported in the Sunday school rooms of Christ Lutheran church this morning and afternoon. This evening the pints of blood will be sent to the Red Cross laboratories at Phoenixville where the plasma will be separated from the corpuscles. Then it will be powdered and prepared for use by the Army and Navy in every part of the world in which United States men are fighting.

Officer's Wife First Donor

First donor here this morning was Mrs. Catherine (Hartman) Clutz, whose husband, Dr. Paul Clutz, is a lieutenant commander with the Marine corps and is on duty in the Pacific. He served on Guadalcanal. Mrs. Clutz, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Hartman, Springs avenue, lives here with her three sons. Dr. Clutz is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Clutz, West Broadway.

The snow delayed the arrival of the Red Cross staff from Harrisburg and appointments ran nearly an hour behind schedule. After an interval at lunch time, the receiving of blood was resumed at 2 o'clock and will continue until all the appointments are filled.

Lt. Edward V. Sexton, USNR, a medical doctor, was in charge of the Red Cross staff that manned the blood donor station here today. With him were four registered Red Cross nurses, a technical secretary and a member of the Red Cross motor corps.

Local Nurses Help

That group was augmented by three local registered nurses, Mrs. Maurice Weaver, Mrs. Sydney J. Poppay and Mrs. George T. Rafensperger, and these local Red Cross nurses' aides: Mrs. Hazel Justina, Mrs. Eloise Mason, Mrs. Ira Henderson and Mrs. Mildred Murray. Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, nurses' aide chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, directed that group.

The procedure for the blood donors is simple. First they register. The nurses take their temperatures, pulse and blood pressure and make a simple hemoglobin test of the blood.

Then the donors are directed to a row of a dozen white cots. A local anesthetic is used so that even the insertion of the needle causes no pain to the donor. Actual taking of the blood requires only about five minutes.

Donors Rest 10 Minutes

The donors are asked to rest on the cot for 10 minutes after the donation is completed. Then they spend 20 minutes in the canteen where they are served their choice of tea, coffee or bouillon. Then they are free to leave after receiving a blood donor card. They may return in two months for another donation.

A part of the registration card of each donor is attached to the sealed bottle containing the blood he gave so that each pint retains its individuality until it reaches the centrifuges at the Phoenixville laboratory. A small sample of the donor's blood is sent along with the pint to be used in making final tests of the suitability of the blood.

The local Red Cross canteen group provided the refreshments for the donors and served lunch to the entire staff during the noon hour.

Mrs. R. S. Saby, canteen chairman, was being assisted by these members of her staff: John Koehner and Mrs. John Kaitreider, while Mrs. G. Henry Roth and Mrs. Lawrence Eckert, Jr., representatives of the canteen group from St. Francis Xavier Catholic church who will be in charge of the canteen kitchen in March, assisted today.

Christ Lutheran Committee Serves
The canteen kitchen today was being handled by members of the Christ Lutheran canteen committee, including Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Mrs. Paul Kinsey, Mrs. L. O. Johnson and Mrs. Clyde Berger. Canteen groups from the various churches will be called upon to help on subsequent visits of the blood donor unit.

Mrs. E. S. Lewars, county Red Cross chairman, visited the blood donor station this morning and Radford H. Lippy, blood donor service chairman for the county chapter, was busy aiding with the registration of the donors. He was assisted by the Rev. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of the church.

Charles H. Linde, Red Cross field representative, accompanied the unit here today and directed the setting (Please Turn to Page 2)

Americans Damage 5 Jap Ships In Solomons Fight

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—In two furious days of fighting in the Solomon Islands, the Navy reported today, American forces damaged two Japanese cargo ships, two destroyers and a tanker, destroyed ten enemy planes and killed 36 Japanese troops in operations which resulted in the capture of an enemy command post.

Three Japanese were taken prisoner.

One of the cargo ships which was damaged probably sank. Four American planes were reported missing.

The location of the enemy command post, while not given in the communique, is believed to be somewhere in the four-mile stretch of coastal country between Kokumbona and Tassafaronga. American forces captured Kokumbona only a few days ago and Tasafaronga would be their next objective in an advance along the coast.

The American offensive action against enemy ships and bases, according to the locations given in the communique apparently were all directed toward the Kolombangara area.

Plows To Start Clearing Secondary Roads Saturday

While gray skies and occasional flurries this afternoon threatened to deepen the one-foot blanket of snow that fell over Adams county in the last three days, state highway department workmen finished snow removal on the main highways and prepared to work Saturday on the secondary routes in the county.

Reports of 15 inches of snow in the Orrtanna section; 14 1/2 inches at the Arendtsville weather station, and about a foot here shaded to 10 inches in lower part of the county. The temperature here climbed to 30 degrees during the night and rose slightly above the freezing point late this morning.

Plows Return to Roads

The 16 trucks equipped with plows and six graders which went into action early Thursday morning worked steadily through that day, last night and until about 6 o'clock this morning. After a two-hour rest period, the trucks went back onto the highways today. All main roads were kept open throughout Thursday and Thursday night, J. William Kendelhart, Jr., maintenance superintendent here, said today.

Today district caretakers were busy with cinder crews spreading cinders on hills, curves, intersections and on approaches to railroad grade crossings.

Many country roads were impassable today as a result of drifting of the heavy fall of snow. Gettysburg school children were dismissed at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon so that rural students might get an early start on their homes. Many workers at the furniture factories here left work at noon Thursday or early in the afternoon when it appeared likely that drifting might close many of the side roads.

Bigler Schools Close Early

Biglerville grade school pupils who travel by bus were released from classes Thursday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock due to the snow storm.

G.A.R. To Celebrate Lincoln Anniversary

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg college and president of the Adams County Historical society, will be the speaker at the exercises marking Lincoln's birthday anniversary which will be held on Friday evening, February 12, in the G.A.R. post room on East Middle street.

There will be special music and Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be recited as part of the program. William L. Meals, Esq., is chairman of the committee on arrangements named by the local camp of the Sons of Union Veterans.

Birthday Party Begins At 8:30 O'clock Tonight

Seven additional sponsors for the Birthday Party to be held at Hotel Gettysburg this evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, were announced today by Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, Adams county chairman for the party.

The latest sponsors include the Arendtsville National bank, William S. Whiteley, Upper-Adams County Lions club, Harry Gulden, Adams Apple Products company, Rice, Trew and Rice company, and the Biglerville National bank.

Mrs. Codori also announced the receipt of cards from seven county schools taking part in the "March of Dimes." They include Liberty Hall, Jessie Crouse, teacher; Centennial Hall, Anna Maring; Rocky Grove, Gail Bell; Woodside, Zora Stambough; Hampton, Carrie Dieks; Brysonia Grammar, J. B. Bushey, and Fairview, Barbara Steick.

Three basic problems now face education, Dr. Brown added naming them:

1. The many specialized training programs must be distributed among the educational institutions so as to continue the educational services of those that can render effective service.
2. Maintaining effective instruction on a higher educational level for those not in the armed services.
3. Attempting to maintain a balance between immediate war service and the values of post-war planning that are now beginning to receive serious attention.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, is attending the Harrisburg meeting.

LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license was issued here today to David S. Meckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clare J. Meckley, Hamilton township, and J. Maxine Hamme, Abbotstown, daughter of Mrs. Jennie P. Hamme of that place.

97 Firms In County In '41

A compilation of productive industries in Pennsylvania in 1941 shows that Adams county had 97 such establishments at that time according to an announcement today by William S. Livengood, Jr., secretary of internal affairs.

The county's industries employed 6,507 persons. They received wages totaling $5,310,500. The capital invested totaled $7,062,500 and value of products was reported as being $19,919,400.

3,000 Enemy Troops Are Killed

(By The Associated Press)

Russia's triumphant armies, crashing into the middle of the German front between Moscow and Rostov reported today they had buckled the Nazi defense-in-depth system for a gain of 12 1/2 miles, killed 3,000 Axis troops, captured 6,000 prisoners, and advanced within 75 miles of the key German base at Kursk.

The thrust represented a total advance of 45 miles from Voronezh, which the Russians announced they had recaptured two days ago.

Simultaneously, a Moscow broadcast declared that the Germans had suffered greater casualties since the Russian offensive began November 19 than the whole of Napoleon's ill-fated grand army which invaded Czarist Russia in 1812.

Napoleon led 600,000 French, German and Italian troops into Russia in late June and only 100,000 escaped after the bloody trek back across the snow less than six months later.

8th Army Presses Pursuit
While the Russians battered Hitler's invasion forces into retreat in many sectors, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army pressed its pursuit of Axis rear-guards in the northwest corner of Libya.

R.C. APPEALS FOR CAMP ARTICLES

An appeal was made today by Dr. Walter F. Coleman, chairman of the Camp and Hospital Service committee of the Adams county Red Cross, for articles to be sent day rooms and convalescent rooms for camps in this vicinity.

Articles such as games, athletic equipment and other items that the Army would not be able to secure without some delay are needed.

Donations may be turned in at the Red Cross rooms or at the National Military Park office in the postoffice, or to any of the following who have been appointed on committees to aid in the collection:

Gettysburg—Dr. Thomas L. Cline, Mrs. S. H. Reed, Mrs. C. C. Culp, W. Preston Hull and Richard Codori. East Berlin—M. E. Webb. McSherrystown—Monsignor Patrick F. McGee. New Oxford—Miss Ethel K. Sheely.

The production committee of the county Red Cross, headed by Mrs. Leroy H. Winebrenner, has been active in the work by making cloth articles for hospital use, while the Junior Red Cross under the direction of Miss Margaret McIlhenny also has been active in the drive.

TRAIN HITS OGDEN'S CAR

Mrs. Doris Smith, 34, McSherrystown, was injured about the face when the car in which she was riding was struck by the locomotive of a shifter train on the Pennsylvania railroad crossing on West Market street, near Overbrook avenue, in West York, shortly after 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Mrs. Smith, who had helped Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ogden and their family to move from Gettysburg to Girard avenue in York earlier this week, was taken back to the Ogden home, where she had been visiting, after receiving treatment at the West Side sanitarium.

Mr. Ogden, the driver of the car, escaped injury but damage to his car was estimated at about $300 by Chief of Police H. E. Shunk of West York, who investigated the accident.

The officer said that Mr. Ogden stated he did not see any warning of the train's approach. The car was pushed along the tracks for about 15 feet by the train which was traveling slowly at the time. The policeman said that George Huber, watchman at the crossing, was on the side of the street. Chief Shunk exonerated Mr. Ogden of any blame in the accident.

Mr. Ogden is state fish warden for York and Adams counties.

Americans Menace Rommel's Narrow Escape Corridor

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Jan. 29 (AP)—Allied planes have carried out a destructive raid on the Axis supply port of Sfax on the Tunisian coast, setting many fires and shooting down six Axis planes that rose for combat, a headquarters communique announced today.

London, Jan. 29 (AP)—Field Marshal Rommel's narrow escape corridor in Tunisia was reported menaced today by an American thrust toward the Gulf of Gabes, but continued uncertain weather appeared to be limiting the scale of action on the entire front.

The full significance of the American push, which the Algiers radio said had reached Maknassy, only 33 miles from the eastern Tunisian coast, was obscured by lack of news concerning the development from Allied headquarters in north Africa.

May Have Started Wedge

The possibility that the Allies had launched a determined effort to drive a wedge between Rommel and Col. Gen. Von Arnim's forces to the north was given color, however, by a combination of reports from various sources indicating that something big was brewing.

Among these indications was a 48-hour conference at Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters bringing together Gen. George C. Marshall, United States Army chief of staff, and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, British Middle East commander, along with other high American and British officials.

A communique issued in Cairo today indicated that the British, continuing their westward drive, had reached the vicinity of Zuara, 65 miles beyond Tripoli and about 35 miles from the Tunisian border.

The Bulletin reported that artillery duels were in progress yesterday in that area, but gave no other details of operations on the land front.

Weather Restricts Activity

While aerial activity over the battle zone was restricted by bad weather yesterday, the communique said, Allied armor struck again at Garet in southern Italy and Sicily in a follow-up to attacks on the same area the previous night.

The Italian high command declared that Axis troops had captured new positions in Tunisia, omitting details, and said that counterattacks were mounted against the continuing pressure of the British Eighth Army in western Tripolitania.

Allied aerial blows against both Italy and Axis positions in north Africa were acknowledged in the communique broadcast from Rome.

Historical Society To Hear Fortenbaugh

The Adams County Historical society will meet in the law library at the court house on Tuesday evening, February 2, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, newly-elected society president, will speak on the topic, "Thaddeus Stevens and the Pennsylvania (Gettysburg) College Appropriation."

Committees will be appointed and President Fortenbaugh has requested a full attendance of society members at this meeting, which will be the first in his term.

UNITED FRENCH OUTLOOK FADES

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Jan. 29 (AP)—General Henri Honore Giraud declared today that there were no prospects of any single united French movement at the present time and that the only agreement between himself and General Charles de Gaulle would be one "of liaison on military, economic and financial matters."

Giraud, high commissioner for French north and west Africa, told a press conference that he had not taken up "the question of politics" with the leader of the Fighting French when the two were brought together during the Roosevelt-Churchill conference at Casablanca.

Establishing Liaison
"There is no question of a single united French movement throughout the world at the present time," he said.

"We are establishing a permanent liaison on critical economic and military questions."

Giraud told the conference he was willing to give the Jews in north Africa back their property and allow Jewish children in the schools, but added that "these moves must be made gradually."

Before the conference the general issued a long statement, much of it repeating material previously covered but saying in addition that the discussion with De Gaulle at Casablanca was a preliminary step to others which would be taken.

Speaking of the Jewish question later he said he had no sympathy with German views thereon but added that the question in north Africa was "an internal one in which the world as a whole has no interest."

GAS BOOK CASE IS DROPPED

Pittsburgh, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration has dropped its case against a Mt. Lebanon township commissioner who two government agents said had refused to show his "A" and "B" gasoline rationing books, OPA District Manager Walter R. Cartwright announced today.

Cartwright said his investigation revealed that the commissioner, Raymond C. Giles, had not violated the pleasure driving ban.

OPA agents George C. Berk and Harry Rosen claimed that Giles refused to talk or give them any cooperation when they approached him in his parked automobile January 21.

Giles said he thought the agents' approach might have been different. "One of them said 'gimme' and I didn't want to 'gimme'," the township official related.

OPA Attorney Samuel M. Chertoff said: "It should be impressed on Mr. Giles that men working for the government should be treated the same way as an elected official of any community would want himself treated."

Police cooperation has been denied OPA agents in Mt. Lebanon township, a Pittsburgh suburb, pending the township solicitor's ruling on the legality of local police aiding in enforcement of the pleasure driving ban.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heiser, Gettysburg R. I., announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rothgaber, Taneytown, announce the birth of a son at the hospital today.

FDR AND BRAZIL'S PRESIDENT TALK ABOUT WAR AIMS

Natal, Brazil, Jan. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt, safely back in the western hemisphere after his historic meeting with Prime Minister Churchill in Casablanca, conferred here yesterday with President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, largest South American state among the United Nations.

It was the first meeting between the two Presidents since 1936, when Mr. Roosevelt visited Brazil on a South American tour, and came as this remembrance celebrated the first anniversary of her rupture of relations with the Axis powers.

It was understood that Admiral Jonas Ingram, commander of United States Naval forces in the south Atlantic, and U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery sat in on the talks. Natal, situated on the "bulge" of Brazil, is the main western terminus of trans-Atlantic plane service operating between South America and Africa. It is the site of an important Brazilian Naval base from which U. S. Naval forces operate and likewise the site of a great U. S. Army air base from which American planes take off for far-flung fighting fronts.

Like the conference at Casablanca between Roosevelt and Churchill, preparations for the meeting here were made with the greatest secrecy.

Vargas had left Rio de Janeiro earlier in the week to fly to Sao Paulo, where his son, Getulio, Jr., is seriously ill, but his subsequent movements had not been disclosed.

A brief official announcement of the conference said merely that the Presidents had met and that details would be given following the Brazilian Chief Executive's return to Rio de Janeiro some time today.

It was presumed, however, that one of the subjects they discussed was the German effort to cut south Atlantic shipping lanes by a stepped-up submarine drive in recent months.

The talks between the Chief Executives apparently were carried on through an interpreter.

GUARDS KILL PRISONER; FOIL BREAK BY FOUR

Waupun, Wis., Jan. 29 (AP)—Straight-shooting tower guards killed one man and wounded two others today to frustrate the attempted escape of four young convicts from the Wisconsin State prison at Waupun.

The fourth man escaped injury and got over the 25-foot west wall but was tracked to a private garage four blocks from the penitentiary. Guards found him hiding under an automobile.

The convict killed was Frank (Bigfoot) Koplar, 23, of Milwaukee, who was serving three to thirteen years for burglary, second offense. He was hit above the hip, the bullet ranging upward into his body.

Charles Bennett, 22, sentenced from Marinette last November 9 for one to fifteen years for kidnaping and armed robbery, was shot in the head, but was given a chance to recover.

Wendell Fowler, 22, of Los Angeles, convicted in Milwaukee in July, 1941, as an accessory before the fact of theft, was wounded in the thigh. He is serving a one to four and one-half year term. Fowler, prison records showed, had several terms in the Nebraska State reformatory and the Wyoming State prison.

Raymond Rainaldi, 26, of Milwaukee, serving one to 12 years for assault with intent to do great bodily harm, cleared the wall, but was recaptured.

Deputy Warden W. J. Hinkamp said the four made their break immediately upon arriving at the prison shoe and tailor shops after breakfast.

One man pulled the electric switch, plunging both buildings into darkness.

RUSSIANS GAIN

said 8th Army vanguards had reached the vicinity of Zuzara, 65 miles west of fallen Tripoli, after an advance of 20-odd miles.

Zuzara lies only 35 miles from the Libyan-Tunisian frontier.

As all reports suggested that the Allies were moving to put the key-to-victory strategy evolved at the Churchill-Roosevelt conference into "active and concerted execution," President Roosevelt himself safely returned to the western hemisphere and conferred with President Getulio Vargas at Natal, Brazil.

Dispatches said it was believed the American chief executive and Vargas discussed Germany's attempt to cut south Atlantic shipping lanes by a stepped-up submarine campaign in recent months.

Reds Using Hitler's Tactics
Mr. Roosevelt had previously stopped off in the African republic of Liberia, where he talked with President Edwin Barclay and reviewed American Negro troops.

In the Russian campaign, the Red armies were exploiting the same divide-and-annihilate tactics used by Hitler in his first devastating sweep into the USSR, 19 months ago.

Soviet dispatches said the Russians were steadily closing a pincers on the German-held Malskop oil fields, attacking from the northeast and the southwest, and also hammering a wedge between Nazi forces in the Malskop sector and others immediately below Rostov.

The wedge was pointed at newly-recaptured Kalinobolotskaya, only 18 miles northeast of the key rail hub at Tikhoretsk, with Red army columns apparently driving at a rapid clip toward the sea of Azov down the Stalingrad-Norcrossisk rail line from Salsk.

Other Soviet troops striking up the Baku-Rostov railway were reported only eight miles southeast of Kropotkin, just below Tikhoretsk, after a total advance of 215 miles from Moxdok in the lower Caucasus.

Plight of Invaders Darker
Far to the north, in the Voronezh sector, the plight of the Nazi invasion armies appeared to be growing blacker by the hour, with thousands of Germans, including three generals, surrendering or falling captive as the Russians stormed toward Kursk.

Bedraggled survivors of the German siege army at Stalingrad were also reported surrendering in groups, bitterly reviling their officers for fleeing by plane and leaving them amid exhortations to "die gloriously for the fatherland."

Tomorrow on the 10th anniversary of his rise to power, Hitler may attempt to reconcile the fate of these annihilated tens of thousands with his boast last September that the Russians "will never get us out of Stalingrad."

Capture Railway City

Moscow, Jan. 29 (AP)—One Red army was in possession today of Kastornoye, a railway city strategically important to the Soviet campaign at the middle of the long Russian front, the Russians announced, and other troops were reported closing in on the vital rail junctions of Kropotkin and Tikhoretsk, in the Caucasus.

Envelopment of the Caucasian cities and the spread of a pincers movement around the Malskop oil field provided the most spectacular gains claimed for the Soviet troops in current fighting, but the capture of Kastornoye also gave impetus to the drives against Kursk and Khar'kov, two strong points of German depth-in-defense lines in the Voronezh "hinge" sector.

(The Russian midday communique, as reported in London by the Soviet radio monitor, told of smashing new blows on the Voronezh front which brought the capture of 33 more places, and resulted in the killing of 3,000 Axis troops and capture of 6,400 more, including three generals.)

(In another Caucasian sector, the recorded war bulletin said, "our troops broke into the enemy rear and cut off the retreat of a large motorized column. Fighting is in progress to wipe out this enemy column.")

HITLER PLOTTED REVOLUTION IN U.S., COURT TOLD

Philadelphia, Jan. 29 (AP)—Testimony that Adolf Hitler in 1937 was plotting a revolution in the United States—with "bloodshed in the streets," if necessary—was considered in U. S. District court today as the government sought to revoke the citizenship of Alexander M. Hartmann, former head of the Philadelphia German-American Bund.

John C. Metcalfe, Washington correspondent for the Chicago Times, testified he joined the Bund's storm trooper unit to get information on Nazi activities and that the Bund was "sure" that Hitler would overthrow the American government and substitute national socialism.

"We (storm troopers) were told that a change of government would be achieved * * * and that if it couldn't be done peacefully, it would be done by force," he said.

"And we were told to anticipate that in making the change by force there would be bloodshed on the streets of America."

Several "local leaders" made such statements, he added. He specifically named Hermann Schwartzmann, who he said was the leader of the Astoria, L. I., post. Schwartzmann, he said, discussed the plan at an "official meeting" of storm troopers in June or July of 1937.

Metcalfe had testified previously that five men wearing U. S. Army officers' uniforms exchanged the Nazi salute with G. Wilhelm Kunze, one-time leader of the Philadelphia Bund, at a Bund picnic here.

The government charges that Hartmann, who lead the unit in 1937-38 made mental reservations of loyalty to his native Germany when he was naturalized.

The 42-year-old engineer has testified that he learned of the Bund's "true purposes" only two weeks ago when his counsel told him of testimony given at previous trials of Bundsmen. He said he had understood the organization's motive was to spread German culture.

No Test Raids Until After February 17

Harrisburg, Jan. 29 (AP)—The state Defense Council Thursday announced there will be no further practice blackouts or daylight air raid drills in Pennsylvania until the new uniform air raid warning procedure set up by the Eastern Defense command becomes effective February 17.

"The new system under which a public warning will be sounded on the blue signal, preceding the actual air raid alarm will necessitate changes in the rules which have been promulgated by the state Defense Council under the air raid precautions act," said Dr. A. C. Martis, executive director.

He indicated that the council rules will be brought into conformity with the Army prescribed system and that enforcement will continue under the state laws.

Merritt Rouzer arrived with all children except those from the Bender's church area. James Heller, driver of the Bendersville-Wenksville section; Roy Martin, Heldersburg-Five Points-Cranberry section, and Martin Walter, of the Yellow Hill section, arrived with part of their usual number of passengers.

Herbert Miller, of the grade school faculty, was delayed in Quaker Valley section and arrived late this morning.

Thousands of Pennsylvania school children were compelled to remain at home today as the state tackled the gigantic job of digging from under four to 15 inches of sleet and snow piled up by the year's most severe storm.

Despite the handicap of labor shortages, snow removal crews were able to keep all main highways open but hundreds of back roads were choked with drifts. Heaviest snow was reported in southwestern Pennsylvania. However, Reading, Hazleton, Allentown, Lancaster and Harrisburg were blanketed under approximately a foot.

The Department of Highways called out a maintenance force of 6,000 men yesterday and last night to keep main highways open, using 3,300 pieces of snow removal equipment on 19,924 miles of main highways.

All roads throughout the state were open, with the exception of two in Cumberland county, the department reported.

Dr. Cline Addresses Hanover Association

"The essence of American life is based upon an incentive to work." This thought was forcefully expressed by Dr. Thomas L. Cline, of the Gettysburg college faculty, in an address before a joint meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Hanover in the junior high school auditorium Wednesday evening.

Doctor Cline in speaking on the subject "Education in American Democracy" decried any form of education which ignores the principle of work as being essential to the building of strong and vigorous citizenship.

He expressed doubt regarding the wisdom contained in laws which prohibit boys and girls from learning to work until they have reached an age in which habits of loafing have become too prevalent. The speaker further expressed the thought that the desire on the part of the parents to secure an education for their children in order to avoid the necessity of work was building a weak and softened citizenship.

4-MINUTE MILE HELD POSSIBLE

Mt. Vernon, Ia., Jan. 29 (AP)—Dr. Glenn Cunningham, whose sinewy legs carried him over the mile route faster than any other runner, believes that the four-minute mile will be accomplished in the "not too distant future."

The one-time king of the milers, now director of athletics at Cornell college, said today that "some fast man among those coming up now will shade four minutes."

Glenn himself missed, but his 4:04 in a special race at Dartmouth in 1938 is the lowest in track history. It was not recognized, however, as a world mark because he was paced during the race run on a special indoor board track.

Cunningham, discussing the present crop of milers, said he is impressed by the records of Gunder Haegg, the 24-year-old Swedish fireman whose 4:04.6 mark recently was accepted as the world outdoor record.

"All I know about Haegg is what I have read and the pictures I have seen," Glenn said. "He seems to be a smooth runner."

He added, however, that he still holds his fingers crossed on what Haegg would do in competition in this country.

Although he thinks Gilbert Dodds, the Boston theologian, is erratic, Cunningham said Dodds' 4:13 race in the Sugar Bowl competition was fast for this time of the year.

"The first man who runs a four-minute mile will have to believe he can do it," he declared.

"The right ingredients are speed, endurance, pace-judgment and intestinal fortitude, together with the psychological conviction of the runner that that is the day on which he can break the tape in record time," Cunningham explained.

The drawing force of the 10-round brawl has the Jacobs' beachcombers scratching their noggin in puzzlement. Pep, although winning handily in taking the title from the ven-erably Chalky Wright in Pep's last appearance in the Garden, was no ball of fire from an entertainment standpoint, and Stolz also was no bargain in his last Garden appearance.

The explanation seems to be that it looks like anybody's fight, and that the expected capacity crowd, sensing an end to the Hartford lad's phenomenal winning streak, wants to be in on the kill.

SPORT SHORTS

New York, Jan. 29 (AP)—The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League are wondering a little if it pays to have a winning team after all. The club right now is a feeble last in the standings, but on the basis of 14 home games they actually are $24,000 ahead of the profits of last year at a similar stage. And last year they romped away with the bunting for the regular season.

Norman, Okla., Jan. 29 (AP)—Only eight Oklahoma players are ready to begin their two-game Big Six conference basketball road trip today. Tom Rousey, senior forward, will be out of action two weeks—with a fractured toe. He dropped a water jug on it.

Dallas, Tex., Jan. 29 (AP)—Three major league baseball clubs have pledged to carry on with the teams they control in Texas league competition, president J. Alvin Gardner says. The St. Louis Browns again will back San Antonio; the Chicago Cubs, Tulsa; and the St. Louis Cardinals, Houston. The independent Texas league clubs, too, are ready to operate in 1943, Gardner adds—because any not operating will lose all its players—they'll become free agents March 1.

LOOKING AROUND

By DON BREM Sports Editor

Followers of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Basketball league will have their biggest night when the top teams clash for the leads in their respective divisions. Gettysburg and Hanover will meet at Hanover for the southern division lead while Shippensburg and Mechanicsburg battle at Mechanicsburg for the leadership in the northern section.

Gettysburg's jayvees will play the Nighthawk jayvees at Hanover at 7 o'clock.

That stunning 41-25 defeat handed Hanover high by Jake Drach's Delone high dribblers Tuesday evening at McSherrystown clearly indicates the progress the Squires are making. Last Friday the Squires gave an excellent performance against the Maroons here and it was the consensus of many that Delone was due for better days. Coach Drach has a scrappy, fast and capable team that is certain to be no pushover for future opponents. Tonight Delone plays Littleton high on the latter's floor.

Gettysburg college will seek its fifth victory of the campaign Saturday evening when it meets Lebanon Valley in a return game at Lebanon. The Bullets defeated the Dutchmen 46-36 here on January 9.

Following the game with Lebanon Valley the Bullets will meet undefeated Villanova here next Wednesday evening. The Wildcats, who are idle until next week, have won nine straight games for the best record in the state and include among their victims Princeton, Albright, Niagara and Geneva.

Fairfield high school's boys' team will play the alumni quintet tonight. The Franklin township consolidated school boys and girls were scheduled to meet the Fairfield jayvee boys and girls in preliminary games but postponed due to road conditions.

Arendtsville will send its boys and girls to East Berlin for games tonight.

Last week this column carried an article to the effect that Corporal Kenneth Tawney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tawney, West Middle street, had been appointed coach of the basketball team representing his battery which in now stationed in England. ## G-BURG MATMEN MEET HOPKINS IN 1ST MATCH

Gettysburg college's varsity wrestling team will open the 1943 mat season Saturday afternoon when they journey to Baltimore to entertain Johns Hopkins, in what promises to be a hard, closely fought match between two veteran aggregations.

As a nucleus for a successful campaign, Bullet Coach Pete Beeson has three senior lettermen back to fill the 145, 155, and 175 pound classes. Al Hart at 155 has lost only two matches during his two years on the team, and Bob Fryling, of Danville, in the 175-pound class is not far behind in the matter of wins. Dick McLaughlin, last year's Middle Atlantic champ in the 136-pound class has been moved up to the 145-pounders in a move to strengthen the team in the lower brackets.

The team suffered quite a jolt when Ferris Blackwood, sterling heavyweight grappler entered the Army Air Force at the end of the first semester, but Jim Lewis, his replacement at that weight has Coach Beeson frankly optimistic about chances in the unlimited division.

Beaver Returns
Another bright spot on the horizon is the return to action of "Chuck" Beaver in the 165-pound division. Last season he was counted on to win many points for the Bullets, but the recurrence of an old knee injury sidelined him for the season.

The lower weight brackets will see three newcomers to varsity competition carry the Orange and Blue colors into battle. For 121, Beeson is relying upon Pat Patterson, of Johnstown. Quentin Weaver and John Thomas of Harrisburg and Gettysburg, respectively, will hold down the 128, and 136-pound classes. Both of these boys are sophomores who showed up well on the freshman team last year, and are counted upon to come through in the pinch for Gettysburg.

Kittanning, Pa., Jan. 29 (AP)—Draft board officials said they will know in several days the outcome of the physical examination given Jackie Wilson, featherweight boxer who lost his NBA title Jan. 18 to Jack Callura in Providence, R. I.

Golfers To Plan Way To Continue

Pittsburgh, Jan. 29 (AP)—The executive committee of the Western Pennsylvania Golf association, meeting here Feb. 9, will discuss a plan to enable country clubs to continue their golf programs despite the pleasure driving ban.

President J. D. Swigart said an inter-club privilege exchange, to operate as long as the pleasure driving ban is in force, has been proposed. He explained that a golf club member who could not conveniently reach his own club would be allowed to play at the nearest club to his residence a limited number of times a month for a nominal greens fee.

AP Asked To Answer 127 Questions In Suit

New York, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Associated Press is asked to answer 127 questions filed in Federal District court by the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice in the government's monopoly suit against the non-profit news gathering organization.

Counsel for the AP has 15 days in which to answer the questions, which deal with the operations of the cooperative and its subsidiaries and ask detailed information on the wires leased, number of employees, cost of operations, wordage of the news report and methods of gathering and handling news.

No date has been set for the beginning of the trial, which will be heard by a three-judge court of federal circuit judges.

The government is asking the court to decide that The Associated Press must open its news report to any newspaper able to pay its share in the gathering and distribution of the news. The AP contends its members are entitled to choose their associates and that the sources of news are open to all.

BARNEY ROSS KO'S NATIVE; OFFERED WIFE

Pittsburgh, Jan. 29 (AP)—The story of how Barney Ross, U. S. Marines hero and former boxing champion, kayaked a native "cham" in Samoa and was astonished when a native chief offered him his daughter in marriage as a reward, was disclosed here today.

Ben Malamude, former Pittsburgh basketball player serving as a pharmacist second class, related the incident in a letter. Referring to Ross as "one of my patients," Malamude wrote:

"Incidentally, in Samoa, the Marines made Barney get into the ring with a colored native French soldier, who was giving our Army and Navy heavyweights a going over.

"This guy weighed 215 pounds, and was the idol of all the natives. Everyone wanted Barney (former welter, junior welter and lightweight titlist), to fight him, but Ross didn't care for the idea. The prestige of the Marines was at stake, however, and the match was finally made.

"They used 16-ounce gloves, but Barney had the Samoan on the deck 11 times before putting him away in the sixth round. Ross became the big hero then, and one of the native chiefs offered him his daughter in marriage and wanted him to share his crown."

An Evening Thought

It is impossible to be a hero in anything unless one is first a hero in faith.—Jacobi.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

CRUELTY TO CARS

When Dobbin was man's faithful friend

There were of us, I'm grieved to tell,

A few who would so low descend

As not to treat him very well.

They used on him a heavy lash,

Compelling him too fast to run,

Nor would they feed sufficient mash

At evening when his work was done.

Such cruel men were hated to court

And some were jailed and some were fined

Until the most of them were taught

To animals they must be kind.

'Twas very strange and very sad

That some should decent care refuse

And would with spur and heavy gad

The trust friend they owned abuse.

Now times have changed, and some there are

With whom their country vainly pleads

To give unto their motor car

The sort of thoughtful care it needs.

"Drive slowly!" is the constant cry.

"Don't speed to accidents or fires!"

Guard fenders with a watchful eye

And don't be cruel to your tires."

Don't drive too close to curbing stone,

To rush the motor wastes the power.

Be sure you do not drive alone.

Keep speed to thirty-five an hour.

Conserve the rubber, cured or raw,

Walk always when not going far,

And show you can, without a law,

Be kind unto your motor car.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THE END OF YESTERDAY

In reading the inspiring book "Yours to Venture," by Robert Updegraff, I came across this saying of the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis, who made the Ladies Home Journal and Saturday Evening Post household words. He said: "Yesterday ended last night."

I met Mr. Curtis several times and was always impressed with his quiet and serene attitude toward life. His genius directed his remarkable career to its great heights, but a large part of his success he attributed to those who carried out his ideas. "See Lorimer," he would say, if anyone asked him about contributing to the Post. Or he suggested the right person to see, but never himself, unless it was a genuine personal matter.

"Yesterday" always "ended last night" with Mr. Curtis. That's why each day shone with such freshness to him, following him through a long career. You can almost tell by the look, or the walk, of some people that they are carrying yesterday around with them today! Definiteness and decision are both lacking, as though invisible hands pulled at them, whispering: "You forgot to finish something yesterday." Well, yesterday never finished everything. It only finished that which you decided should be finished.

The capacity of each one of us is limited, yet it is amazing how much can be accomplished with what abilities we have. Napoleon was a little fellow, but his energies seemed boundless. Had his life been devoted to creative instead of destructive work, he would have loomed as few men in all history as a useful agency of progress and civilization. His selfish ambitions, however, only brought him fame—and much of that ignominious.

We cannot get rid of the fact in our minds that today will soon be yesterday—and that yesterday is gone forever. We keep getting nearer to the one objective of all our lives each day of our lives. That should only give us serenity of mind, however, so long as we get a clearer view of that one objective.

If anyone brings up an unhappy or unpleasant subject, as a hang-over of yesterday, just say: "Yesterday ended last night!"

Accounting Of Lend-Lease Appropriations Is Assured

SHOWDOWN ON LABOR DUE SOON IN CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—A detailed accounting of the billions expended in lend-lease appeared assured today even as Congress started machinery to keep the program going another year.

While the capital read with interest the news of President Roosevelt's unheralded visits to Liberia and Brazil on his way home from the north African war conferences, the House foreign affairs committee summoned lend-lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. for questioning on operations of the war-time act.

A showdown on labor's strength in the new Congress also is impending. Congressional reaction to a bill subjecting labor groups to penalties of the 1934 anti-racketeering act by broadening the definitions of robbery and extortion is expected to indicate whether sharp revision of labor laws is in the offing.

Other Proposals Expected
The measure, overwhelmingly approved by the House judiciary committee yesterday, generally was looked upon as a forerunner of even more far-reaching proposals, including one to modify the National Labor Relations act.

Meantime, Congress studied two other important developments—a Democratic senator's recommendation that Edward J. Flynn end a bitter Senate controversy by requesting withdrawal of his nomination as minister to Australia, and an attempt by some congressmen to force the President to back down on his $25,000 salary limitation.

With outcome of the Senate's vote next week on confirmation of the Flynn nomination regarded as a toss up, Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind.) asserted withdrawal of Flynn's name would be "a very wholesome solution" to the situation.

Van Nuys declared he was unimpressed by Republican charges the former Democratic national committee chairman is unfit for the diplomatic post but added "this is no time to plunge the Senate into a controversy when any of a dozen well-qualified men could be confirmed without a dissenting vote."

Would Lift Debt Limit
Congressional opponents of the Presidential salary limitation sought to attach a repealer to a bill lifting the nation's debt limit from $125,000,000,000 to $210,000,000,000. If successful, the maneuver would compel the President to veto the new debt authorization or accept revocation of the salary ceiling.

Extension of lend-lease until July, 1944, appeared thus far to have little opposition but demands for an explanation of where and why the money was spent appeared certain to bring a congressional examination.

A possibility also developed that the House Foreign Affairs committee's public hearings on the program might open up an examination of a variety of associated issues such as the size of the armed forces and the effects on domestic rationing of sending supplies abroad.

Suggests Labor Hearings
The labor measure reported by the House Judiciary committee defines extortion as "the obtaining of property from another, with his consent, induced by wrongful use of actual or threatened force, violence or fear, or under color of official right." Robbery is described as the unlawful acquisition of property through "actual or threatened force, or violence, or fear of injury, immediate or future."

Flashes of Life

NO ANSWER

Pittsburgh (AP)—Edwin L. Crone, a carpenter, disagreed when Judge W. Heber Dithrich told him he could not be excused from grand jury duty next Monday. "Well, you'll have to," Crone insisted as court clerks stiffened in their chairs. "How is that?" snapped the jurist. "I'm going into the Army on Saturday," the carpenter explained. "In that case there isn't anything else to do." The court smiled. "We wish you well."

BREAKING TRAINING

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—State Senator Robert C. Reilly, a Du-Buque Democrat, whined a loud "ehw" when he opened a letter at his Senate seat and out dropped a check for $2,000. It was a routine letter from his bank calling his attention to some pending banking legislation. Investigation showed that the check was payable to somebody else and had been enclosed in the letter by mistake.

Pay-As-You-Go Proposal The 25-member House committee, headed by Representative Doughton (D-N. C.), was expected to consider the pay-as-you-go tax proposal apart from other tax problems and limit hearings in an effort to place income tax collecting on a current basis by March 15.

One such plan, suggested by Bearsley Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve bank of New York, would skip taxes on income earned in 1942. A modified version, proposed by Representative Robertson (D-Va.), called for elimination only of lower-bracket 1942 income taxes and imposition of a 20 per cent withholding levy on current income of all taxpayers after allowable deductions.

The latter plan was intended to put relatively low income groups completely on a current basis. Doughton, however, has voiced strong opposition to general erasure of 1942 obligations.

Four Senate committee members who took the plan for a "liaison" committee under advisement showed little enthusiasm for it.

Formation of such a committee was urged after both Senator Maloney (D-Conn.) and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) protested that the President had requested legislation without previously consulting Congressional leaders.

Close Flynn Vote Expected Meantime, an Associated Press poll indicated a Senate vote next week on confirmation of the President's nomination of Edward J. Flynn as minister to Australia will be extremely close.

Personal interviews with 88 Senators showed 28 Democrats and a Progressive announced they would vote for confirmation and 27 Republicans and four Democrats against the appointment of the former chairman of the national Democratic committee. Twenty Democrats and eight Republicans declined to commit themselves one way or the other. The remaining four Democrats and four Republicans were absent from the city.

U.S. LOOKING FOR SOURCES OF NEW REVENUES

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—A toll-some hunt for new revenue sources that will feed more billions into war financing and consideration of a pay-as-you-earn tax plan officially began Thursday in the new Congress.

The job of initiating the search for $16,000,000,000 in taxes and compulsory loans in addition to the $35,000,000,000 expected to be produced annually from existing levies fell to the House Ways and Means committee opening its first session of the year.

Another development to concern the lawmakers was a complaint that President Roosevelt does not confide sufficiently in Congress. The protests brought renewed requests for creation of a bipartisan "liaison" committee to bring a better understanding between the White House and the Capitol.

Meantime, a Senate Military subcommittee sought a method of separating potentially loyal Americans from other Japanese held in detention colonies. Informed that nearly two-thirds of 106,000 Japanese could be released for military or production service, the committee called upon Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Japan, for advice.

Pay-As-You-Go Proposal The 25-member House committee, headed by Representative Doughton (D-N. C.), was expected to consider the pay-as-you-go tax proposal apart from other tax problems and limit hearings in an effort to place income tax collecting on a current basis by March 15.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter Six

"Yes," Hadley repeated, "I think young Dorrance should watch his step. And carefully."

"Why?" Nick snapped. Hadley contemplated his hat. "It seems that Madge Sturges has a boy-friend."

"Boy-friend?" "Yes. She didn't dare go to him for the money she needed, because she didn't dare admit she'd been out with another man. This fellow had no idea of what was going on until he read about her attempted suicide in this morning's paper. I wonder if Mr. Dorrance saw that item, by the way?"

Nick was almost screaming at him. "Never mind what Frank saw. What are you getting at? Who is this man?"

"His name is Chandler. He's a music-hall artist; gives a very unusual and spectacular show, which you ought to see," Hadley paused. "He streaked to D Division for details. And got them. The divisional inspector says Chandler isn't in any state of mind to be met safely on a dark night. He passed on the warning, which I pass on to you. If you should happen to want it, the number is Whitehall 1212. Good afternoon. Dr. Young. Good afternoon."

What Nick might have said in reply was lost under the ear-splitting assault of the thunder. Nerves and heat had been strung to too high a pitch on the earth. A balance tilted; a decision was made. Hadley was just getting into his car outside the house, and the hands of Nick's clock stood at a quarter past six, when the sky burst across the storm tore down.

For several minutes after the first deluge struck the house, Dr. Nicholas Young sat motionless. It was almost dark in the study; the clock went unheard, but, under that uproar, the electric fan kept up a small spiteful core of noise.

If anybody had asked him, Nick would have replied that he was not disturbed. But his vivid mind ran on. After some minutes he awoke to the fact that the rain was sluicing down on the carpet, soaking the curtains, and stinging his face from many feet away. His crutch lay against his chair. Propping himself up, he swung across the room in awkward jerks like a mechanical toy, fell against each window in turn, and stood on one leg while he closed them. The storm roared at him. It blinded him and lifted his hair, a darkness through which only his own movement could be seen or heard or felt.

For the preceding half-hour he had been able to hear, even at that distance, the faint pick-pock noise of tennis rackets. It was always there, always in the background, as a reminder that the young people were enjoying themselves. His west windows looked out over the garden and towards the tree-enclosed tennis-court, though nobody could see the court itself from any position. And now he could not even see the trees, except when a life of lightning showed sodden foliage. Towards the left of the garden, a banked driveway lined with tall trees sloped down to the garage, which was on the same level as the tennis-court. Between the garage and the tennis-court, a gravel path went on still further to a gate in the rear wall round the grounds. By that gate you went out to Kitty Bancroft's trim little house not far away; and beyond it, dim and tumultuous under the rain, fell the slopes of Hampstead Heath.

Nick shut the last window. He switched off the electric fan, blundered across to a couch by the bookshelves, switched on a bridge lamp over it, and managed to lie down amid twitches of pain that turned him dizzy. But he would not acknowledge pain, he cursed any one who came near or tried to help him.

Though it was long past time for his after-ten nap, he knew that he could not sleep. Beside the couch ran the "crime" bookshelves, a storehouse of murder filling one side of the study, and dominated by the tall blue volumes of the Notable British Trials Series. He looked at the latest addition to the set, The Trial of Mrs. Jewell. That was the case in which Hugh Rowland had prepared, or was said to have prepared, the defence.

Under the close light of the bridge lamp, Dr. Young's face showed rough-skinned and pitted. The one frosted lens of his spectacles gleamed; the other eye, sharp and dark, moved angrily. He turned down the corners of his mouth, flattered the broad jaw; his nose twitched as though he were going to sneeze; and he sneered at the book. After studying it for a moment, he reached out and took it off the shelf. He began to read.

Until nearly seven o'clock the rain roared steadily, preventing sleep. Dr. Young read just as steadily, the book propped up at a distance on his stomach, and his head up at a neck-breaking angle. He sneered much; he admired little. By ten minutes to seven the rain slackened, and at seven it ceased. Dr. Young crawled up to open the windows and admit fresh, healing air. Before seven-thirty he was sleeping peacefully. The Trial of Mrs. Jewell open across his chest.

The next thing he knew, someone was screaming, and he kept hearing endless repetitions of the same word.

Then, shatteringly, distinct words. "For God's sake, sir get up. Miss Brenda says—"

He opened his eyes. The face of Maria, the maid, was bending over him as close as a vampire come to take his blood. He knew a second of pure superstitious terror; he kicked out by instinct, as though to kick away fancies; then pain burnt him through his broken limbs, and shocked him awake.

"It's Mr. Frank, sir. He's lying in the middle of the tennis-court."

Then, gabbling on, words still more wild.

"I can't hardly believe it, sir, but I seen him there. He's been strangled with that silk scarf of his, and Miss Brenda says he's dead."

THREE STATE BILLS WOULD BOOST EXPENSES

Harrisburg, Jan. 29 (AP)—Statistically-minded political observers said today that three measures offered in the state assembly would add millions to the commonwealth's expenses as the administration sought ways of reducing state expenditures.

The measures would provide $50 for each mother of a child born in Pennsylvania, reimburse county registrars for all birth and death certificates, and provide a bonus of $500 for each Pennsylvanian with a four-month war service record.

Statisticians, citing Pennsylvania's average birth-rate of 169.231 each year, calculated the measure introduced by Rep. John J. Baker (D-Allegheny) would cost around $8,000,000 annually, while on the basis of 50 cents for each certificate filed, approximately $142,000 would go to registrars, since births and deaths in Pennsylvania average about 284,500 annually. For reasons of military secrecy, the statisticians made no estimates on what the bonuses would total.

Game Commission Elects Meanwhile with the Legislature in recess until Monday, attention focused on a meeting of the Pennsylvania Game commission, called, then postponed by Ross L. Leffer, of McKeesport, president, until today. The commission met yesterday nevertheless and elected O. Ben Gipple, of Harrisburg, president, and Dr. C. E. Phillips, of Sunbury, vice president, succeeding Robert Lamberton, of Franklin.

In Pittsburgh, Leffer immediately challenged the legality of the meeting, asserting the names of four members who met have been withdrawn from nomination by Governor Martin.

Martin meanwhile urged the Pennsylvania Association of County Fairs at an annual dinner to continue fairs as a stimulus to the production of food, which he called "the greatest weapon of all." The association also decided again to urge the Legislature to legalize parimutuel racing in Pennsylvania.

Reports on Fish Distribution C. A. French, Pennsylvania commissioner of fisheries, announced "the production and distribution of fish for the year just ended was the most successful in history."

The commission, he said distributed 1,791,614 trout, seven to 20 inches in size, and 1,878,725 trout one to five inches in size in Pennsylvania streams.

Martin also fixed the week beginning March 29 for the electrocution of Herbert Green and John Childers, two Philadelphia prisoners convicted of first degree murder.

The measures which would add new sums to present state expenditures contrasts with the declaration by the Chief Executive on a number of occasions that "there isn't any way to cut taxes except to cut spending money" and that "one thing is certain—the cost of all government must be lowered."

The measure to aid county registrars is sponsored by Senators Charles R. Mallory (R-Blair),

Flynn Decision To Be Narrow Margin

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—An Associated Press poll indicated Thursday that the Senate vote on confirmation of President Roosevelt's nomination of Edward J. Flynn as minister to Australia is likely to be decided by an extremely close margin next week.

Of 88 senators reached in personal interviews, 28 Democrats and a Progressive announced they would vote for confirmation of the President's long-time political and personal friend for the important diplomatic post.

Against these 29 favoring the nomination, 31 senators, including four Democrats and 27 Republicans, were listed as publicly opposing confirmation. Eight senators—four Democrats and four Republicans—were away from Washington and George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton) and Edward J. Coleman (D-Lackawanna), while the bonus bill was introduced by Rep. Edward M. Regan (D-Lackawanna).

2 Limitations in Baby Bill The bonus would be paid to Pennsylvanians serving four months in the armed forces between Dec. 7, 1941, and the end of the war.

Two limitations are in the baby bill of Rep. Baker. It would require the mothers to be residents of the state a year and must not be inmates of jails at time of childbirth. The measure would not apply to babies born before it became law.

Another bill before the Legislature, would license all "legitimate purpose" clubs—defined as "clubs maintained and not operated for profit"—without regard for the state liquor quota law, sponsored by Reps. Baker and Louis H. Leonard (D-Allegheny). The quota law now bans more than one liquor license for every 1,000 population.

Deny Hanfstaengl Employed By OWI

Washington, Jan. 29 (AP)—Reports that Dr. Ernst Sedgwick (Put-zi) Hanfstaengl, former associate of Adolf Hitler, was giving the Government information on Hitlerism brought the comment from the state department Thursday that it was unable to find any record of ever having employed Hanfstaengl. The Office of War Information also said that Hanfstaengl "is not in the employ of the Office of War Information. Nor have his services been utilized in any way by the OWI."

Hanfstaengl, whose mother was a member of the New England Sedgwick family, worked with Hitler for 15 years before he fled to England in 1937. He was living near London when the war broke in 1939 and was interned. Later he was sent to Canada with other prisoners of war.

Published reports which apparently prompted the state department and OWI statements, said the details of the transfer of Hanfstaengl from Canadian to American jurisdiction were still secret, but that the terms included his agreement he would be kept incommunicado and would maintain the secrecy of the whole operation.

Ninety-four per cent of the New Zealand population is of British origin; four per cent are native Maoris.

Income Tax

NO. 23 DEPRECIATION (PART I)

Among the deductions allowed in arriving at net income for Federal income tax purposes is depreciation. Depreciation may be sustained in connection with property giving rise to rental income shown in item 6 of return, Form 1040, or property used in business or profession, the net profit (or loss) from which is shown in item 9. The property must, of course, be owned by the taxpayer.

As relates to Federal income taxes, depreciation is an allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in a trade or business, or of property held for the production of income. The purpose underlying allowances for depreciation is to permit the taxpayer to recover over the useful life of the property the capital sum invested therein. The terms "used in trade or business" or "held for the production of income" would include property held for such purposes though actually not in use during the taxable year. Depreciation deductions are not allowable on property used for personal purposes, such as one's residence or its furnishings, or automobile or pleasure craft. However, if a taxpayer moves out of his house and rents it, it would become a rental property upon which a depreciation deduction would be allowable; or if a taxpayer used his car in part for business purposes, then a portion of the depreciation on the car, depending upon the relative use for business purposes, would be allowable.

A distinction must be made between depreciation and what may be called fluctuation in value. In the case of an automobile, it is commonly said that once a car has been driven from a dealer's show room it becomes a second-hand car, and by that fact may lose a considerable amount of its value. However, only that part of the loss in value which is due to actual exhaustion, wear and tear in business use, during the year, may be deducted as depreciation.

A further requirement in determining depreciation is that the property must have a limited and determinable useful life in the trade or business. Land, for instance, upon which a building is erected, is not depreciable, since it has no determinable life, and in setting up depreciation on real estate, a segregation must be made between the cost or other basis for the land, and the cost or other basis for the buildings.

The length of useful life of a property is often a difficult matter of estimation. The useful life of a building, or a machine, the furniture used in a physician's office, a lawyer's professional library, or a tractor on a farm, depends on particular circumstances, including the character of the property and the character of its use. A well-built brick building may have a useful life of 50 years and a frame house 25 years, a piece of machinery 5 to 10 years, but in particular instances the useful life may vary considerably.

In depreciation deductions, the amount claimed must be supported by the data called for in Schedule J of the return Form 1040. This schedule requires a statement of the kind of property being depreciated, the date acquired, the cost or other basis used in computing depreciation, the depreciated value at the end of the year, the depreciation allowed or allowable in prior years, and the remaining cost or other basis to be recovered, as well as the estimated life used in accumulating depreciation and the estimated remaining life at the beginning of the year.

STORM CRIPPLES STATE; 4 DEATHS

The count of dead rose to four today in a wind-whipped sleet and snow storm—the winter's worst—that crippled war production and clogged streets and highways throughout Pennsylvania.

Judge Samuel H. Humes, 42, of the Lycoming county court, died in Williamsport shortly after midnight, two hours after he was found unconscious in a snowbank. Friends said he apparently suffered a heart attack.

With temperatures still below the freezing point, the weather bureau forecast continued cold and high winds.

War Workers Late

In Philadelphia and many other war production centers, thousands of factory workers arrived late on their jobs. Production was slowed at the Philadelphia Navy yard and Cramp Shipbuilding company yards when ice formed on scaffolds. The wind made it impossible to work on exposed decks.

Manpower shortages slowed snow removal in virtually all sections. The Philadelphia Transportation company broadcast appeals for workers to clear trolley tracks. The snow was five inches deep on Philadelphia streets and there were three trolley accidents with five persons injured.

Trolleys and buses were behind schedule in many cities. Inter-state buses were reported as much as an hour late. Railroads reported only slight delays.

Three schools closed in Delaware county. Two Philadelphia schools adjourned classes early yesterday.

Man Found in Snow

The snow-covered body of an unidentified man about 50 was found at 8th and Winter streets, Philadelphia, during the night. The hands were grimy and police believed he was a war worker. A preliminary examination indicated he had suffered a heart attack.

Earlier yesterday Irvin Ickes, 13, was found dead on a highway near his home near Wolfburg, Bedford county. Coroner Vernon Geisel said he apparently had been killed by an automobile while coasting.

Harry Paul, 52, of Philadelphia, collapsed and died after shoveling his sidewalk. Deputy Coroner Luke Farrell said he had suffered a heart attack induced by over-exertion.

An Announcement To The Public

After careful deliberation and in pursuance of a sound conservative policy, the undersigned banks of Adams County have decided to reduce the rate of interest paid on Savings Pass Book Accounts and Time Certificates of Deposit to a maximum of 1 1/2% per annum.

This reduction in rate will be effective in the case of each of the undersigned banks not later than the next interest payment date on its Savings Pass Book Accounts, but since the interest payment dates and the reduced rates of the undersigned banks are not uniform, it is suggested that you contact your bank for more complete information regarding the rate and the effective date of such reduction.

Just as our sons have gone to the fighting fronts, so our dollars too must go to the front lines to win this war. In co-operation with their Government, these banks are purchasing Government securities in amounts which for them are unprecedented. Government Bonds eligible for bank purchase carry very low interest coupons; taxes and other expenses are higher while the volume of good local loans is declining. All these factors combine to progressively reduce bank net income. Believing that the safeguarding of principal is at all times the paramount responsibility of good bank management, the undersigned banks feel that in the faithful discharge of their duty, they have no alternative but to adjust downward the rate of interest on Time Deposits.

claim. The company printed gasoline and oil receipts for the state between October 9, 1935, and November 9, 1935. Scragg said the state agreed to the compromise because it was not able to produce certain witnesses.

JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT IN CIVIL SUIT

Unable to agree after more than five hours of deliberation, the jury of 12 men in the Mellott-Tuckey damage suit ended their second full day in court late Wednesday afternoon by being discharged by the court while the damage suit goes on the continued list for disposition at the April court term.

A "hung" jury is a rare occurrence in Adams county and attorneys and court officials could not remember any other civil case here in recent years in which no verdict was reached by the jury. One criminal case ended with the dismissal of the jury here 10 or more years ago but this is the first civil suit in which a decision could not be reached within the memory of court house officials.

Trial of the case occupied more than two full days. The jury was selected Monday morning after the single criminal trial. The taking of testimony began Tuesday morning and occupied the entire day. The final address of the opposing counsels and the court's charge ran until a few minutes past noon on Wednesday.

Seven To Five Deadlock
About 3:30 o'clock the jury returned to the court room for further instructions from the court and reported their deliberations deadlocked at a vote of 7 to 5. Shortly after 5 o'clock they again returned to announce the deadlock continued and told the court they did not believe the vote would be changed by further deliberation. Charles W. Myers, Chambersburg street, veteran Western Maryland railroad agent here, was the foreman.

One juror told a Gettysburg Times reporter that the question of deciding on the amount of damages never was reached because the jurors could not decide on the question of responsibility for the crash. Seven favored the defendant, Mrs. Katherine Tuckey, Wrensville, and the other five felt the plaintiffs should be awarded damages. The Times was told.

Accident In August

The suit was brought by B. Rush Mellott and his 19-year-old son, Nelson Ellery Mellott, Gettysburg R. 5, against Glenn and Katherine Tuckey, of Wrensville. During the trial a non-suit was ordered in favor of Glenn Tuckey, removing him as a defendant.

The accident occurred last August 6 at the Granite Station intersection on the Lincoln highway, east of here. Mellott, attempting to cross the highway, was struck by Mrs. Tuckey's car. He was so badly hurt his right arm had to be amputated near the shoulder.

It was disclosed Thursday at the court house that before the Mellott-Tuckey trial opened, John P. Butt, Esq., counsel for the Mellotts, asked the court to dismiss the entire panel of January jurors on the grounds that Mrs. Tuckey was employed as secretary to the county board of jury commissioners when the 1943 jury wheel was filled. The court dismissed the petition.

Sentence Court

Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., represented Mr. and Mrs. Tuckey. Judge W. C. Sheely and Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyer were on the bench. The next session of court will be held Saturday morning when sentences will be meted out.

Members of the dismissed jury were:

Charles H. Bowers, Littlestown; C. O. Dunbar, Arendtsville; Ray Funt, Biglerville; Mervin Harman, Gettysburg R. 4; Fidelis Lingg, New Oxford R. 2; Paul E. Miller, Hanover R. 3; Charles W. Myers, Gettysburg; W. C. Plank, Fairfield; Paul M. Rohrbaugh, Steinwehr avenue; George H. Sanders, Fairfield; Allen Sharrar, Orrtanna R. D.; and George D. Sheely, New Oxford R. D.

Countian Given 2-Year Sentence

Two Adams county youths were among the conscientious objectors to military service sentenced in Federal court at Lewisburg before Judge Albert W. Johnson Saturday.

They are Harold Emanuel Chuck, 23, Littlestown, and Mervin Allwine, 25, Abbottstown. Both pleaded innocent to charges of failing to report to work camp. They received two-year sentences each.

Both men identified themselves as "Jehovah's Witnesses" and were charged in Federal court after they refused to report for work in civilian public service camps.

Orchard Robins Precede Storm

While Adams county was undergoing its heaviest snow-fall of the year Thursday, signs of spring are being reported throughout the county.

O. C. Rice, mercantile appraiser of Adams county, reports that several dozen robins in his orchard two miles north of Biglerville on Wednesday.

Mr. Rice said, that this is the earliest in about 35 years that the robins have returned to the orchard which is their annual custom. In past years, according to Mr. Rice, cold weather is usually of short duration after the flock arrives.

Earlier this week Miss Eva Boyer gathered snowdrops on the lawn of her home in Arendtsville.

LOCAL POLICE DID NOT SEIZE RATION BOOKS

Replying to critics who resented participation by borough police in the recent OPA officials' action in stopping motorists last Thursday evening and Friday morning and seizing some twenty odd gas ration books Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer Monday issued the following statement:

"The policy of the borough police department has been and will continue to be one of cooperation with all state and federal agencies when specifically and officially called upon.

"We have cooperated with many state and federal agencies as part of our official responsibilities. We shall continue to do so.

Sense of Duty
"With reference to the OPA officials' actions last week which has brought about a flood of complaints locally it should be made clear that Gettysburg police officers participated to this extent: They accompanied the OPA officials who were wearing civilian clothes. Our police merely stopped the machines that were pointed out or requested to be stopped by the OPA officials. Our police officers did not question the motorists and did not have any part in seizing the ration books. Our officers do not feel that it is their responsibility or their duty to take the gasoline ration book from any motorist. We were compelled by a sense of duty and responsibility to cooperate to the extent that we did. It must be understood that our officers did not question the motorists and did not take any of the ration books. That responsibility rests with the OPA officials."

College Grad Jap Prisoner

First Lieutenant Robert F. McClure, graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1935, is a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippine Islands, the War Department announced Wednesday.

Lieutenant McClure was reported "missing in action" several months ago and since that time no further word or information had been received. The War Department reported him a prisoner of the Japanese along with eighteen other Pennsylvanians.

While at Gettysburg McClure was active in campus affairs and was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi. He was an ROTC cadet and received his commission in the Army upon his graduation. He was on duty with the Army Air Corps on Bataan peninsula and was first reported missing after the surrender of Corregidor.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McClure, of Harrisburg. His wife also resides in Harrisburg.

2 Are Transferred For Induction Here

Draft Board No. 2 announced today that two men have been transferred to their office for induction with 106 others summoned for February 1.

John Russell Pitzer, Biglerville, formerly a school teacher, has been transferred from a draft district at Suffolk, Virginia, for induction next month. The other transferee is John Russell Sites, a Gettysburg college student, whose home is at Collingswood, New Jersey.

COURT ORDERS TWO SONS TO HELP MOTHER

Two steel mill workers from Harrisburg who have been earning an average of more than $57 per week apiece, according to testimony given in Adams county court, Friday afternoon, were ordered by Judge W. C. Sheely to contribute to the support of their mother, Mrs. Laban Wolfe, of York Springs, who has been receiving public assistance since early in 1940.

The men, Cecil and George Wolf, were ordered to pay $13.95 per month each for their mother's support to replace the $27.90 being paid her each month by the county Assistance Board. Col. J. L. Barton, executive director for the board, was the only witness for the commonwealth and the two sons were the only defense witnesses.

Show Weekly Incomes

The two men were brought into court as being the only ones among six children who have an income sufficient to contribute toward their mother's support. Colonel Barton said the pair had evaded letters or ignored them when the assistance board sought information in the case.

Colonel Barton read on the witness stand statements on the earnings of George and Cecil Wolf, secured from the Bethlehem Steel company at Steelton where the young men are employed. Earnings ran as high as $68 a week and averaged close to $60, he said.

Cecil told Judge Sheely that he is willing to have his mother live with him but that he has no money to give for her support. He said taxes, bond purchases, social security and other deductions take 37 percent of his regular paycheck and that he foresees the possibility of being out of a job when the war ends. George also said his living expenses, insurance and taxes leave him nothing for his mother.

Threatened Contempt

Cecil told Judge Sheely that if he is ordered to help support his mother, he will quit his job and go to farming because "I can't exist in Harrisburg on any less than I have now." Judge Sheely warned that if he changed jobs to evade compliance with the court order he would face a jail sentence for contempt of court.

The brothers were ordered to pay the costs of the case and post bonds to insure their compliance with the court order.

In response to a petition from residents of Germany and Union townships for the vacation of a section of the Gettysburg-Littlestown highway made useless by a relocation of the road, the court named John P. Butt, Esq., LeRoy H. Winebrenner and A. C. Keffer to a board of viewers to view the location and make a report and recommendations to the court.

Court will convene at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, when the only criminal case on the list will be called for trial. Only two civil suits appear on the Common Pleas list and will be disposed of after the criminal court ends.

ARMY CAPTAIN IS TRANSFERRED

Captain John C. Hollinger, College Avenue, Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Gettysburg college, left Saturday on a special assignment from the War Department. Orders were received Friday afternoon by Captain Hollinger to report at a post in New England, January 24. An officer from Penn State will replace the local member of the ROTC staff.

Captain Hollinger came to Gettysburg from the local institution in 1932 and for some time has been engaged in civilian pursuits. In 1935 he was called to active duty and assigned to a Civilian Conservation Corps command in Virginia. While on CCC duty he was transferred to Gettysburg college. Several months ago he was scheduled to be transferred but an appeal from the local institution that he be retained here brought a change in orders and he was reassigned here.

Orchestra Chosen For Birthday Party

Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the county committee planning the 1943 Gettysburg birthday party for Friday evening, announced today that Bill Jones' orchestra will furnish music for the dance in the Hotel Gettysburg. The party will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Sergeant G. Noel Flynn Reads Gettysburg Times At North African Front

The Gettysburg Times follows Adams countians in service wherever they go. Proof of that claim has been substantiated time and time again in letters received from those in service on many far-flung battle-fronts.

In Australia, Egypt, Iceland, Alaska, Honolulu, England, Ireland, Africa, wherever Adams countians are on duty they receive The Gettysburg Times. On several occasions those in service have had their picture taken reading The Times. The most recent is that of Sergeant G. Noel Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Flynn, Baltimore street, now in duty with the American invasion forces in North Africa.

Sergeant Flynn recently sent a photograph of himself reading The Times to his wife. Mrs. Flynn gave permission to The Times to reproduce it (above).

The picture was taken "Somewhere in Africa" and the edition Sergeant Flynn is reading is that of October 3. The masthead of the paper can easily be recognized as can the two cold bold-face headlines at the upper right of the page (the reader looks at it). In the lower left hand corner of the page is a three-column photograph of Wilfred R. Seiple, of Easton, a member of the "Flying Tigers" showing his parents an Indian Gurka knife he brought home as a souvenir of his fighting in Burma and China.

By a strange coincidence The Gettysburg Times received a letter from Sergeant Flynn on Tuesday. It was postmarked January 13 out of Africa. The letter follows:

"Somewhere in North Africa," January 10, 1943

Dear Sir: Received your letter asking me to send a Xmas message to my folks back home for publication in a special Xmas gift edition of The Times. I am sorry to report that I did not receive the letter in time to get a message back for publication in the special edition. As you perhaps know I was stationed in England but my outfit was among the troops chosen to take part in the North African campaign which explains the delay in your letter reaching me.

I have, however, received the special edition with messages from the folks at home to the boys in the service and I enjoyed reading it very much. Your newspaper is to be congratulated for allowing the boys and their folks at home to exchange the season's greetings in this way.

During my stay of almost two years in the service I have received The Times regularly. It made no

Major Worley, 26 Years Old, Commands Pilots In Arizona

An Adams county youth, who is a Gettysburg college graduate, possesses one of the most outstanding records for speedy advancement through the ranks of any other countian in the armed forces. He is a major at 26 years of age and is in command of a pilot training group at an Army Air Field.

The 26-year-old major is Earl Wilson Worley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Worley, Littlestown. He commands the Second Pilot Training Group at Williams Field, Phoenix, Arizona.

A second lieutenant, upon his graduation from Gettysburg college in 1937, he became a first lieutenant in January of last year, a captain in May and a major in November. At Williams Field, Major Williams has supervised entire cadet classes, including instructors.

An outstanding baseball player at Littlestown high school, he won a scholarship to Gettysburg college

OPA Officials Seize Gasoline Ration Books In Night Test

Four OPA representatives from Harrisburg worked with state motor and borough police officers in Gettysburg, Biglerville and along some rural highways Thursday evening and early Friday morning checking motorists for the pleasure driving ban.

It was estimated by the local police officers this morning that more than 120 cars were stopped and from 20 to 25 gasoline ration books taken from motorists by the OPA men. The uniformed officers simply stopped the cars. Questioning of the drivers and seizure of the books were handled by the government men.

Local Board Besieged

Confusion reigned in the local draft board offices Friday as a result of Thursday night's operations. Drivers came in to state their case, demand return of their ration books and to see what steps were necessary to get back their stamp books. The board staffs had no knowledge, however, that the check had been made and the seized books had not been turned over to the local boards for action.

Two OPA men worked with Borough Officer Lloyd E. Wisler and two with Corporal F. C. Russell of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police. The OPA men left Friday morning about 2 o'clock for Harrisburg with the promise "We'll be back." They did not tell the local officers when to expect their next call.

Many Motorists Stopped

Officer Wisler and the pair of OPA agents spent most of their time at the intersection of Carlisle street and Lincoln avenue where at times as many as 16 or 18 cars were lined up in each direction waiting for their driving missions to be okayed by the federal men, or failing that, to have their ration books taken from them. Later that trio of officers stopped a few cars on Baltimore street and in Center Square.

The pair of investigators working with Corporal Russell stopped some cars at York and Hanover streets, along the Mummaburg road and went as far as Biglerville along that highway.

The checking began about 8:30 p. m. and continued until 2 a. m.

DRIVER INJURED AS 2 TRUCKS HIT

A driver was injured and two trucks badly damaged when they collided head-on this afternoon at 12:15 o'clock at the crest of a hill on West Middle street at Seminary ridge.

John Wesley Morris, 25, 115 Fair-ground avenue, Hagerstown, was admitted as a patient to the Warner hospital with chest injuries and contusions.

Morris was driving a truck owned by the O. P. Bohman company, of Hagerstown, east on the Fairfield road when it collided with an oil truck being driven west by Jack F. McClellan, 209 West Middle street, just on the east side of the crest of the hill. McClellan was uninjured.

Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, who investigated the accident, said the Hagerstown truck was on the left side of the highway. Officer Culp said he would lay charges against Morris for failing to yield the right of way before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Allied Postage Stamps On Sale

Ten thousand of the special United Nations commemorative postage stamps in the two-cent denomination have been received at the Gettysburg post office and have been placed on sale there.

The new stamp is of usual dimensions and is printed in red ink. The central design, symbolic of victory, depicts an uplifted palm branch at the apex of a triangular shaped procession of swords, likewise held upright. In a horizontal panel with dark background along the lower edge of the stamp is the wording "Nations United for Victory."

Two Injured When Struck By Sled

Edith Fair, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fair, Gardeners R. 1, and Miss Edith Cline, 18, Gardeners R. 1, received painful injuries in a sledding accident Wednesday evening at 10 o'clock at Mt. Tabor.

The young ladies were pulling a sled up a hill when a coaster coming down the hill struck them. The sled passed over the back of Miss Fair and also struck Miss Cline. The former received a possible concussion of the brain and numerous bruises about the body. Miss Cline received two large lacerations on the forehead which required sutures.

Both were taken to the office of Dr. B. C. Jones, Bendersville, for medical attention.

CANNERS WILL PACK FRUIT OF ORRTANNA FIRM

Through the generosity and cooperation of two Adams county canners the apple and cherry crops usually processed by the Orrtanna Canning company will be packed for the government this year by M. E. Knouse and C. H. Musselman.

This arrangement for handling the 1943 crops of the Orrtanna company resulted from the $175,000 fire last December 3 that destroyed the plant owned and operated by I. Z. Musselman and executive staff consisting of his son, Howard Musselman and A. W. Roth and W. F. Yoder.

In announcing the plans of the company for this year, Howard Musselman disclosed that the War Production Board had notified the firm that it could get priorities to rebuild the plant now.

Postpone Rebuilding

However, the granting of priorities is only half the job, Mr. Musselman said. The other half is securing the proper materials, most of which are being used at the present time in the war effort, he added. Thus, because the best materials are not available at the present time, the company officials have decided not to rebuild now.

Mr. Knouse, of the Knouse corporation at Peach Glen, offered to pack the Orrtanna firm's apple crop this year. All of the work will be done at Peach Glen and the Orrtanna company will furnish additional workers who may be needed to take care of the increased activities.

According to present government regulations, canners will be permitted to pack up to 63 per cent of their capacity, all of which is for federal use. If the output should be boosted by the government, as the interested parties believe probable, plans have been made to add a night shift at the Knouse plant.

Cherry Crop

A similar arrangement has been made with the C. H. Musselman firm at Biglerville for the processing of the cherry crop of the Orrtanna plant. Because the pack is smaller than that of the apple crop, Howard Musselman indicated that not as much Orrtanna labor, if any, will have to be transported to Biglerville as may be necessary at Peach Glen.

Growers who deal regularly with the Orrtanna Canning company have been assured by the firm that their crops will be handled as usual this year, Howard Musselman said. He added that the full force of permanent employees of the firm has been retained.

A letter sent recently to the employees of the Orrtanna company, says in part as follows:

"We plan to build a modern plant just as soon as practical. For the information of all interested parties and to correct any possible mistaken report we wish to announce that we will be in full operation this coming apple season in cooperation with the Knouse Corporation and the C. H. Musselman company. Our growers will be asked to make deliveries of their fruit crop to the Knouse and the C. H. Musselman plants. Our employees probably will be transported to Peach Glen and Biglerville. We ask the whole-hearted support of all our employees in this project. This includes not only the nucleus of men who are employed the year round but the larger group who have worked for us during the canning season."

VISIT TIMES' PLANT

Members of Boy Scout Troop 77 of Gettysburg with their scoutmaster, Jack Cessna, visited The Gettysburg Times plant Friday evening in the first of a series of educational tours of Gettysburg's business places and industries.

UNIFORM RAID SIGNALS WILL START FEB. 17TH

New regulations pertaining to the control of air raid protection for the Eastern Military Area, which includes Gettysburg and Adams county, the adoption of new warning signals and other changes were announced Thursday by the War Department and the Eastern Defense Command.

Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the Adams County Council of Civilian Defense, said he had not been advised of the change, scheduled to become effective February 17th.

Judge Sheely said that in all probability the new order will be put into effect here but that until he receives official notice the present system will remain in effect. He announced that he would call a meeting of local councils of defense with the county council sometime early in February at which the entire situation would be reviewed and new orders issued.

The new order affects sixteen Atlantic seaboard states and the District of Columbia.

Uniform Raid Signals

The new regulations provide for uniform air raid signals designed to permit earlier blackout and mobilization of civilian defense personnel, greater civilian protection, and a minimum of time loss and interference with essential war production and transportation.

Public Proclamation No. 4, issued today by Lieutenant General Hugh A. Drum, commanding general of the Eastern Defense Command and First Army, in accordance with War Department instructions, established the authority for adopting uniform regulations in the Eastern Military area consisting of the states of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida east of the Apalachicola river, and the District of Columbia.

These regulations were issued by appropriate Service Command headquarters at Boston, New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, and the Military District headquarters in Washington, D. C. The principal features of the new regulations which were approved by the War department and concurred in by the Office of Civilian Defense are:

"Blue" Warning

1. A preliminary audible public "Blue" warning signal is prescribed, consisting of a steady blast lasting approximately two (2) minutes on air raid horns, sirens or whistles. This signal, which ordinarily will be the first public audible warning, means "Probability of enemy air raid—enemy planes appear to be headed in your direction—get ready." Civilian Defense forces mobilize. Lights in homes, business houses, certain industrial firms, and all but certain street lights and traffic signals will be blacked out. Pedestrians may proceed. Automobiles may move with lights on low beam. War production and transportation may continue provided certain precautionary steps have been taken.

Public "Red" Signal

2. An audible public "Red" air raid signal is prescribed consisting of a series of short blasts on air raid horns or whistles or the warbling notes of the siren. This signal, which corresponds in general to the present air raid alarm, means "Enemy planes are practically overhead." All remaining lights are blacked out except a few authorized emergency lights. Persons take shelter. Traffic except for emergency vehicles stops. The public is warned that in some cases the "Red" signal will be the first audible public signal whenever there has been insufficient time for sounding the preliminary "Blue" signal.

"Blue" follows "Red"

3. A "Blue" signal will always follow each "Red" signal after immediate danger has passed. It returns the community to the conditions prescribed for the "Blue" signal. The community is thus prepared to return to the "Red" without delay if the enemy raiders return.

No Audible "All Clear"

4. No audible "All-Clear" signal is prescribed. The "All-Clear" will be indicated by turning on those street lights which have been off during the "Blue," by public radio announcements and telephone, or other communication with warden posts and by local police. A community may adopt an audible "All-Clear" signal provided that it is not the same as the "Blue" or "Red" signals and does not resemble those signals so as to result in confusion.

CRIMINAL ACTION TRIED; 'NOT GUILTY'

The January quarter session of criminal court in Adams county was opened, a single trial conducted and closed in an hour and 40 minutes at the court house Monday morning and a jury for the only civil suit in this session was drawn before noon. All jurors excepting the 12 elected for the single damage suit, were dismissed Monday morning by Judge W. C. Sheely.

Percy Markle, Hanover R. 3, was found not guilty of a charge of larceny of an iron cooking kettle and ring, valued variously from $20 to $15 but the jury directed that he and Walter Laughman, also of Berwick township, divide the costs jointly.

Testimony of Laughman and his wife and the defendant was completed in a half hour. Richard A. Brown, Esq., defense attorney, used two minutes to make his final plea for acquittal. District Attorney J. Francis Yake used five minutes for his address to the jury and Judge Sheely took eight minutes to summarize the evidence and instruct the jury on the law involved. The jury deliberated 25 minutes.

Says He Bought Kettle
Laughman testified he had bought the kettle three years ago from the defendant's brother, now deceased. Markle admitted taking the kettle but said he knew nothing of the sale. He offered to pay Laughman for the kettle, he said, although the latter "had no proof" of the sale by the deceased brother.

The jury in the case included: C. A. Bream, Cashtown; William Durbin, Gettysburg; Lynn Grove, New Oxford; Paul Heller, Berwick; John O. Musselman, Fairfield R. 2; Paul Rice, Berwick; Paul M. Rohrbaugh, of Gettysburg; Robert D. Sell, Gettysburg R. 3; George D. Sheely, New Oxford R. D.; Monroe Shue, Mummaburg; Augustus Studt, Littlestown, and A. S. Whisler, Gettysburg R. 5.

A settlement was announced Monday in the assumpsit action listed for trial this week in Common Pleas court in which H. M. Sterner was plaintiff and Vernon Prazier, the defendant. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

VETERAN OF 2 WARS RECEIVES ARMY RELEASE

A veteran of two wars and the first countian to be discharged in World War II because of age, Corporal George D. Sandoe, Aspers R. 1, returned Tuesday evening to his 45-acre poultry farm in Tyrone township. Sandoe will be 60 in April.

A veteran of four years of service in World War I, Sandoe enlisted a month after Pearl Harbor and was sent to Fort Eustis, Va., then to Los Angeles and finally to Fort MacArthur at San Pedro, California, where he was attached to an anti-aircraft outfit.

He enlisted as a private but was promoted to corporal during his year of service. Told by Army physicians that he could not expect to be sent abroad because of his age, Sandoe decided to ask for a discharge. When he re-enlisted last January he hoped his previous training would lead to foreign service.

Biglerville Native
Sandoe is a native of Biglerville. On July 12, 1916, he went to Harrisburg and enlisted in the U. S. Army. He was assigned to recruiting duties at a number of cities in the east and finally was sent to New York university as a military instructor and remained there until he was discharged with the rank of corporal on June 4, 1920.

Now he plans to go back into the turkey raising business on his farm in upper Adams county. He disposed of a fine flock of 125 turkey hens last January when he returned to the service.

Driver Has Narrow Escape In Crash

A driver had a narrow escape from death this morning when the station wagon he was operating ran off the Gettysburg road at the edge of Biglerville and was impaled by a section of pipe railing that went through the hood and windshield, missing the driver by inches and passed out through the roof of the vehicle.

Then the station wagon, which was loaded with cans of milk intended for delivery at the Hershey receiving station in Biglerville, turned over in the ditch at the side of the road.

The driver, John Rasmussen, a nephew of H. M. Cater, owner of the truck, was unhurt but damage to the car was estimated at several hundred dollars. It was towed to the H and H machine shop here.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gettler, Biglerville, announce the birth of a son, Terry Lee, January 18.

Autos Collide In New Oxford

Damage estimated at about $25 resulted when cars collided early last Thursday afternoon at the Peters street intersection with the Lincoln highway in New Oxford. No one was injured. Private W. J. Stanton of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police reported after his investigation.

Wilbert Deshong, 56, Warfordsburg, was driving west and George W. Lichtenberger, 55, York, was headed east and was attempting a left turn when the collision occurred, officers said.

12 DEGREES ARE GIVEN MONDAY TO COLLEGIANS

Twelve seniors received bachelor of arts degrees Monday morning at the first January commencement exercises to be held at Gettysburg college in more than 100 years.

The graduates—who will be known as the class of January, 1943—received their degrees from Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college. The members of the class follow:

Henry K. Bowman, Harrisburg; Thomas N. Cannavo, Moorestown, New Jersey; James W. Dunaway, II, Conshohocken; Ruth Irene Hanzik, Baltimore; Donald K. Holtzman, Pennsburg; Robert A. Houtz, Harrisburg; James N. Peck, Ford City; Heinz Schwanege, Collingswood, New Jersey; E. Kepner Sipes, Everett; Ralph L. Stehley, Altoona; Marilyn M. Wolfersberger, Somerset; and Shirley I. Wood, Philadelphia.

Sermon by Harrisburg Minister
Presentation of the degrees followed a sermon to the graduates delivered at the Brua chapel exercises by Dr. Lewis C. Manges, pastor of the Memorial Lutheran church, Harrisburg.

The speaker, who graduated from Gettysburg college in the class of 1897, used these words of John the Baptist for his text: "He (Jesus) shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire."

Baptism, the Rev. Dr. Manges explained, as interpreted by John, is something that God puts into man. The text also mentions fire, which in its application means a consuming force, the Harrisburg minister said.

Can't Trifle With Moral Laws
It is the purpose of the consuming fire, the graduation audience was told, to warn us that "we cannot trifle with moral laws of God and not pay the penalty."

The text also gives us the example of fire as God's purifying force, the Rev. Dr. Manges said. This interpretation means that there will be pain and suffering in life for human beings, but that nothing good and Christ-like will be destroyed in the "fires of affliction."

This purifying or refining fire of God also puts energy, zest and power into the human soul, the speaker declared. Moses, Peter and Paul all displayed new power in their lives after coming into contact with the Holy Spirit's refining fire, the Rev. Dr. Manges said, and added in conclusion:

"We should come into contact with Christ, not alone for the consuming or refining power of God's fire, but for the whole meaning of the baptism that makes God our inspiration and aspiration of life."

College Choir Sings
Five sons and a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Manges are graduates of Gettysburg college.

The exercises Monday morning were opened with the singing of two stanzas of "America" and a prayer by Prof. Donald R. Heiges, of the college faculty. The college choir sang before Doctor Hanson introduced the Rev. Dr. Manges.

The twelve candidates for degrees were presented by Dean Wilbur E. Tilberg.

The program ended with the singing of the alma mater and the benediction by Doctor Hanson.

About 25 new students have enrolled at Gettysburg college. Registration was conducted over the week-end.

CARS COLLIDE DURING TEST

While John E. Brough, 42, proprietor of the Wayside garage, Biglerville R. 1, was testing brakes on a customer's car, Friday afternoon, on the Biglerville-Carlisle highway near Pitzer's service station, the rear of the car he was operating was struck by a car operated by Clarence M. Swinn, 38, of Gettysburg.

Both machines were traveling north. On one of Brough's sudden stops with the car of William Stallsmith, Biglerville R. 1, the rear of the car was struck by Swinn who had been following the garageman, police said.

Mrs. Swinn was thrown forward and her head shattered the windshield of the car but she escaped with a bruise of the forehead. Damage to the two cars totaled about $130 with the Swinn car suffering most of that amount.

Private John M. Micks, of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police investigated. No charges have been filed.

High School And College Students Among 154 County Registrants Called

BOARD NO. 1 (New Oxford)

Draft Board No. 1 has issued induction notices to 48 men—more than 30 of them between 18 and 20 years of age—with orders to report for final physical examinations and induction on Tuesday, February 2, at Harrisburg. Several married men are included.

No Seniors Called
The draft board office at New Oxford said that no high school seniors are being drafted by Board No. 1. The board recently wrote to all high school principals and secretaries and heads of the parochial schools in the county, suggesting that requests for deferment, signed by the school heads, should accompany the questionnaire of 18- or 19-year-old students in their senior year so that the student can finish his high school education before entering the service.

No such consideration can be given to draft age students below the senior class, a board spokesman said.

New Office Hours
New office hours for the New Oxford headquarters have been announced. The office now is open daily, excepting Sunday, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

The list announced by Board No. 1, exclusive of the volunteers, follows: Charles Wilbur Hooper, Greenville, South Carolina; Wilson Henry Weaver, McSherrystown; Lawrence Harvey Hinkle, Gettysburg; Iris Willis Paine, Hanover R. 3; Russell Keller Fann, Mt. Holly Springs; Robert Leo Clansier, Littlestown; Charles Evans Hinkle, York Springs; Guy George Heverstick, Abottstown; Melvin Lewis Warner, Hanover; Francis Joseph Slagle, Hanover; Fern Dittmer Holt, East Berlin R. 2; Lewis William Jacoby, Hanover R. 3; Earl Joseph Slagle, McSherrystown; George Marlin Bream, Gardners R. 1; Russell George Neider, Hanover R. 3; James Ray Reindollar, Littlestown R. 2; Glenn Samuel Wolf, New Oxford; Gerald Joseph Hawn, Gettysburg R. 3; Harold Leroy Eisenhart, East Berlin; Kenneth H. FSA WILL BUY DAIRY ANIMALS FROM FARMERS
B. Lloyd Black, Farm Security Administration supervisor for York, Adams and Dauphin counties, announced Thursday, FSA is prepared to buy promising dairy animals—calves, heifers and cows apt to be sold for slaughter in this area. This new feature of the FSA program is designed to maintain production of milk, critical shortages of which are developing constantly throughout the east.

"Animals purchased will be resold to other farmers here or elsewhere. Cows will be sold to families having ample labor to care for them and sufficient feed and facilities. We will buy for cash and sell either for cash or on time," the supervisor said. The program will be put into effect immediately.

To Save Herds
"I am confident that with the cooperation of the farmers we can stem the decline of herds," Black said. "We are determined that henceforth no good milk-producing cow will go to the butcher. Secretary Wickard of the Department of Agriculture assigned FSA the job after various reports indicated that many herds throughout the region were being dispersed because of shortage of labor, feed and facilities. I feel that the department acted in time to save our eastern milk production."

"We need every quart of milk we can get. Severe milk shortages have occurred in areas where population has been greatly increased. There is every indication that extreme difficulty will be encountered in even maintaining present production. The increased demands for the armies of the United Nations and for the lend-lease program and for civilian war workers and other domestic consumption generally will require every possible pound of milk and dairy products which can be produced."

"I have no doubt but that farmers in this area will cooperate with the government and keep as many cows as possible through their dry periods. The government is calling for volunteers here; and I know our farmers won't let their country down," Black said.

BENNER WILL FILE
The will of Mary C. Benner, late of Mt. Joy township, has been filed at the court house disposing of an estate estimated to be worth about $6,800 in real estate and personal property. Sarah J. Benner and A. Gertrude Durbanow, Gettysburg R. D., are the executrices.

C. OF C. MEMBERS HEAR SUMMARY OF YEAR'S WORK

Directors of Gettysburg's Chamber of Commerce were lauded for the "commendable work" accomplished in 1942 "despite the war" and a plea was made for town-wide support of the civic organization at the annual membership of the Chamber Tuesday evening.

President Mares Sherman presided at the dinner session which was held at the Battleground hotel. President Sherman read a summary of the year's activities which included a complete report of the Chamber's efforts to bring an Army camp, airport or defense project to Gettysburg, one of which seemed on the verge of being fruitful until the last minute it was rejected by "higher ups" in the Army. That was a ground training or task force which considered a Battleground site.

Year's Summary
Activities of the Chamber last year included participation in two local conventions, distribution of advertising plates for automobiles, the annual Battleground Campfire programs, a survey of tools, machines and equipment for defense plants, opening of the Gettysburg-Littlestown road, training classes for the war effort, the Civilian Pilot Training program and miscellaneous local affairs.

E. W. Thomas reported a membership of 47. Robert Berkleimer paid tribute to the officers and directors of the Chamber and made an appeal for a town-wide effort to stimulate more interest in the organization. He declared that "Gettysburg cannot be without a Chamber and the organization should have the support of every merchant and industrialist."

Henry M. Scharf commended President Sherman upon "a successful administration."

Plan for Future
Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the national park, recently elected a director, spoke of the future plans now in process of formation for the Battleground. He declared that the objective is to attract more visitors here after the war. He stressed the importance of the tourist industry in this community.

Treasurer Ralph Z. Oyer reported receipts from dues of $1,375.75 and a balance from last year of $207.08. Expenditures totaled $1,115.16, leaving a balance of $227.67.

President Sherman appointed the following nominating committee to report at the February session: Robert Berkleimer, chairman; George Zerling, Joseph E. Codori, Henry M. Scharf, Milton Bender and A. E. Hutchison. The membership will elect three directors to succeed N. B. Schumann, Ralph Z. Oyer and Mares Sherman whose terms expire next month.

Clarence Nuss, violinist and Miss Alice Snyder, pianist, rendered several musical selections. 22 members of the Chamber were present.

Uniform Raid

on the air to broadcast official bulletins.

Special authorizations for essential war production and war transportation.

Reduce to a minimum the period of time of the "Red" signal by providing an additional "Blue" signal permitting an earlier return to the conditions under which essential war work and other activities may be resumed.

Under no conditions will lights in actual use be left unattended at any time. Unattended lights in homes, business houses or industrial locations are defined as potentially dangerous and therefore unlawful.

Certain radio stations will remain open the second month's drive for WAAC recruits in Adams county.

The quota for this area in the first quarter of 1943 is 21 recruits, eight of whom already have been secured through the office of Private Hartzell here.

Captain Engart will remain in Gettysburg on Friday, February 5, to interview applicants interested in becoming aviation cadets in the Air Corps enlisted reserve. Youths between the ages of 17 and 18 years will be given a mental examination by the officer in the postoffice, starting at 9 a. m.

A similar program of events—"WAAC Night" and the subsequent Air Corps interviews—is being planned by Private Hartzell for the Littlestown area on Thursday and Friday, February 11 and 12.

Private Hartzell emphasized that the program is being arranged specifically to interest women between the ages of 21 and 44 years, married or single, and of any color or creed. However, the public is invited.

The speakers will be Lieut. E. Alden Richardson, WAAC recruiter, and Capt. H. S. Engart, assistant recruiting and induction officer.

HANOVERIAN IS CRASH VICTIM

Town's Attractions Discussed By Rotary

The advantages and disadvantages to be found in Gettysburg were the topic of the talk of Dr. J. Walter Coleman before the local Rotary club Monday evening.

Rotarian Coleman, who is superintendent of the Gettysburg National Military park based his remarks on a survey that was made recently here.

Advantages pointed out by the speaker included low tax rate, fine streets, the college and seminary as educational institutions, the national park and several other features that would encourage residence here.

Among the things that he noted as needing improvement were the sewer system and the recreation facilities.

At the close of his remarks other Rotarians joined an open discussion. President Paul A. Kinsey presided during the meeting that was held in the Y.W.C.A. building, center square.

Man Arrested On 2 Forgery Counts

John H. Smith, 22, Hanover R. 3, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on two charges of forgery after an investigation by Detective Jesse Crabbs and Chief of Police H. S. Roberts, Littlestown. The charges were brought by the Littlestown State bank and the First National bank, Gettysburg, before Justice of the Peace Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, according to Officer Roberts. The chief of police said that one check for $145, another for $55 were involved in the case. Smith posted $1,600 bail for his appearance at a hearing tonight.

C. W. EPLEY IS INJURED; CAR, TRAIN COLLIDE

C. W. "Reds" Epley, 47, Gettysburg garageman, and Lee M. McWilliams, 44, Landsdowne, Pa., district manager for the Studebaker company, were injured Wednesday morning when Epley's car and a Reading company locomotive collided at 9:30 o'clock on the Table Rock road crossing at the southern edge of Biglerville.

Both men were admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. They were X-rayed for possible fractures of the skull. Both suffer from cerebral concussion, bruise burns and contusions of the knees. Mr. Epley also received chest contusions and Mr. McWilliams' left forearm may be broken.

Neither is regarded as critically hurt, it was stated at the hospital.

Struck by Train

Those who reached the scene of the crash soon after the collision said that the front of Epley's sedan was struck by the front of the north-bound locomotive. The force of that collision spun the car about on the snow-packed roadway and the rear of the machine was crushed against the train.

The Epley car was traveling toward Table Rock when the collision occurred and Mr. Epley's view of the track to the south was blocked by a dwelling house that stands close to the intersection, it was said.

Mr. Epley was thrown out of the car and after the crash was found lying unconscious on the highway. Mr. McWilliams was able to climb from the wrecked car as members of the train crew and employees of the C. H. Musselman company plant nearby reached the scene.

Persons at the scene said William Voorhes, Gettysburg, was the engineer on the train. He told persons at the scene that he was on the right side of his cab and did not see the approaching car. He felt the bump from the collision and stopped the train a short distance north of the crossing to investigate the cause. He was quoted as saying he believed a rail had snapped under the locomotive.

Dr. Raymond Oyer, Biglerville physician, was called to the scene by Musselman company employees, and the injured men were treated by him at the scene and then taken to his office from where they were removed to the Warner hospital. Mr. McWilliams made the trip in the Adams county ambulance and Mr. Epley in a car.

Bullets Defeat Muhlenberg 51-36; Maroons Play At Hanover Friday Night

Maroon Cagers Win Fifth In Row; Beat Delone 44-28

Foul Shot In Last 7 Seconds Gives Aberdeen 43-42 Win

SQUIRES KEEP MAROONS BUSY IN 1ST HALF

After a somewhat listless first half the undefeated Gettysburg high school basketball team showed its offensive punch in the second half to down a scrappy Delone Catholic high quintet on the local floor Friday evening before a large crowd 44-28.

Although leading from start to finish, the Maroons were kept hustling throughout by Jake Drach's lads who showed plenty of speed and ability.

Bobby March played one of his best games for the Maroons and led the scoring with 14 points, a number of his six field goals coming on long shots.

Take Early Lead
Delone drew first blood after about a minute when Overbaugh sank a long shot. A short time later Fair tied it up with a shot from the side and a foul by Boehner sent the Forney-men out in front. Sherman and Boehner tallied from beneath the hoop before Palmer converted a foul. Just before the period ended Overbaugh connected on a one-handed stab and the score stood 7-5 at the period with Gettysburg out in front.

Early in the second period the Maroons ran their lead to 14-5 on goals by Sachs, March and Boehner and a foul by Sachs. Overbaugh then scored on a close shot for the visitors. The scoring see-sawed the remainder of the period which found Gettysburg leading 21-13 at half time.

Paced by March who dropped through three goals during the period, the Maroons went out in front 33-17 in the third quarter. Fair was good for a pair of double-deckers and Sachs a single twin-pointer. The Squires tallied four points on a goal and foul by Palmer and a foul by Overbaugh.

Reserves Play
Each team netted 11 points in the final quarter which saw Coach George Forney use his entire varsity squad.

March looped a short toss and when fouled converted the try. Palmer made good on a free throw and stabbed through a one-hander. Fair cut the cords on a close toss and Ogden looped a long try. Miller sank a long shot and Sachs retaliated with a one-handed goal. With the score 42-22, Coach Forney inserted an entire new team with about four minutes of play remaining. McKim and Miller scored goals in quick order and Ogden located the hoop from a long angle. A goal by McKim ended the scoring for the evening.

Overbaugh played a nice game for the visitors and kept his team in the battle during the first half when he tallied 10 of his 11 points. The Squires showed a surprisingly nice passing attack and should cause plenty of trouble for future opponents.

George Fair and Ross Sachs followed March in sparking the offense while George Boehner and Max Sherman played steady floor games.

Scrubs Win First
The Maroon scrubs, playing the first game of the season, downed a huskier Delone jayvee outfit in the preliminary affair 28-16. At half time the locals led 13-6. Scoring was well distributed for both teams.

3 Local Marines Score On Range

Three Gettysburg youths who entered the Marine Corps on November 19 of last year and were sent to Parris Island for their basic training course have won "sharpshooter" or "expert" ratings with rifles and sidearms and two of them have been sent to special training schools.

Grover Thompson, Carlisle street, has been sent to Camp Lejeune, New River, North Carolina, for an eight-week course in communications. Robert Thompson, a cousin of Grover, is at the same camp in a motor transport school.

Bernard Cole, third member of the trio, is continuing his training at Parris Island. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole of Gettysburg. Grover Thompson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson, Carlisle street. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Gettysburg.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 23 (AP)—The parents of Mario (Mottis) Tonelli, former Notre Dame and Chicago Cardinals football player, have received word that he is a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippines. Tonelli, a sergeant in the coast artillery at the time of his capture, scored the winning touchdown in Notre Dame's 13 to 6 victory over Southern California in 1937.

Cage Tilts Called Off Due To Storm

Unfavorable traveling conditions due to the snow and sleet storm forced the cancellation of the Bigler-Camp Hill basketball games scheduled to be played at Camp Hill Tuesday evening.

The Biglerville squads started the trip but after traveling about five miles turned back because of the slippery condition of the highway. The games will be played later in the season.

Enola high, which was scheduled to play at Biglerville Friday evening, has cancelled, leaving the Cannons without a game this week.

ETTEN TRADED TO YANKS FOR TWO MEN, CASH

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
New York, N. Y. (AP)—When the New York Yankees begin their campaign for another baseball pennant April 21, the man at first base will be Nicholas Raymond (Nick) Etten—the eighth player to hold down that position since the late Lou Gehrig benched himself in 1939 after 17 years on the job.

Dipping into the National League for the second time in 13 months to get a capable first sacker, the American league champions obtained Etten yesterday from the Philadelphia Phils for two players and cash estimated at around $10,000.

The Phils, who can use the cash as well as the players, received First Baseman Ed Levy and Pitcher Allen Gettel, who performed last year with the Yankees' Kansas City farm in the American association.

Etten will fill the gap created by the entrance into military service of Buddy Hassett, who came to the Yanks in December, 1941, from the Boston Braves.

Is Power Hitter
The big left-hander joins the steady parade of first basemen who have moved in and out of the post which Gehrig held through his record run of 2,130 games and gave up voluntarily when he began to feel the effects of the rare disease that eventually caused his death.

A power hitter, Etten batted .311 for the Phils in 1941 but slumped to .265 last season. He is 28, married and has two children and a 3-A draft classification.

Tonight the Forney-men will meet Hanover high at Hanover in a battle for the leadership of the southern division of the Southern Pennsylvania Interscholastic League.

CHICAGO CUBS PURCHASE BIG PAUL DERRINGER

Chicago, Ill. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who believe they "have a chance to go places this season," may have taken a step in the right direction Wednesday night in acquiring Paul Derringer, veteran Cincinnati pitcher.

Certainly they had the right handed pitcher—an entire starting staff as a result of the cash deal—and there was every indication that it would be strictly righthanders the Cubs would rely on in their 1943 title bid.

Any southpaw regular must be developed from this year's recruits. Last year's lefties, Vern Olson, Johnny Schmitz and Russ Meers, have entered military service.

Veteran Staff

The 36-year-old Derringer, who has spent 12 years in the majors—the last 10 with Cincinnati—will team up with such likely right hand starters as Claude Passeau, Bill Lee, Lon Warneke, Les Fleming, Tot Pressnell and possibly Dick Barrett, 34-year-old veteran of the minors obtained from Seattle.

In announcing the purchase yesterday, James Gallagher, general manager said, "we believe we have a chance to go places this season and we needed another pitcher." The purchase price was not disclosed, but some sources put it at $15,000.

Derringer, although bothered by an old injury, appeared in 29 games last season, winning 10, losing 11 and finishing with an earned run average of 3.06. Before the transaction was completed Manager Jimmy Wilson, a former teammate of Derringer's, said he was convinced the veteran would turn out high class work for a least another season.

Asked To Be Traded

Derringer himself recently asked to be traded or sold and the Red management agreed he had been in one place long enough. Derringer indicated a preference for the Cubs and that was alright with the Cubs. The big righthander always has been a Cub nemesis and has beaten the Bruins twice for almost every defeat handed out by the Chicagoans.

Derringer broke into the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals and after little more than two seasons there went to Cincinnati on May 7, 1933 in a trade in which the Cards got Leo Durocher, now manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

With Cincinnati, Derringer four times won 20 or more games during a season—in 1935, 1938 and the Reds' 1939-40 pennant years. His all time major league record shows 190 victories and 174 defeats.

Storm Stops Game At Littlestown

Quincy orphanage of Franklin county cancelled its basketball game scheduled to be played Tuesday evening with Littlestown high at Littlestown due to traveling conditions. The game will be played on Tuesday, February 23.

Delone Catholic high, of McSherrystown, will play at Littlestown Friday evening.

BULLET STARS AWAIT CALLS

Under the present program as outlined this week by the War department, Gettysburg college does not expect to lose any of its athletes until May, with possible one exception. Coach "Hen" Bream said Wednesday, according to the latest plan for calling up men enlisted in the reserves only Tony Yovicsin, center on the basketball squad, may be called before May. Yovicsin, who has enlisted in the Naval Reserves, expects to be called in March.

Cal Welliver and Don Freedman are members of the Army Reserves, the latter being a pre-medical student. Gene Haas is a member of the R.O.T.C. unit and will receive a second lieutenant's commission next spring. George Drach has enlisted in the Navy V-7 program and will be called in May. Davey Plank and Cy Davis, freshmen members of the varsity squad, are in the Army Air Corps and Navy V-1 programs and will not be called before May.

Will Parnell, Bullet scoring ace, is the only member of the basketball squad not in some form of service. He received a low classification when he attempted to enlist some time ago.

ARENDSVILLE AGAIN DOWNS FRANKLIN TWP.

The Arendtsville freshman boys' and girls' teams won their second double-victory over the Franklin township consolidated school passers Tuesday evening on the Cashtown floor.

After being on the short end of an 8-2 count in the first half, the apple-pickers rallied in the second half to win after a fast game, 16-13. Slaybaugh's scoring spree in the second half proved the downfall of the Cashtown team.

It took a last period rally for the Arendtsville girls to gain a 23-18 decision in the preliminary affair. Franklin township led 11-6 at the half and going into the final frame led 15-14. Dively and Wierman topped the Arendtsville scorers with Mickle, Brenizer and Kump each scoring a half dozen points for the losers.

PLASTIC BALL FOR GOLF IS UNDER STUDY

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, N. Y. (AP)—The New York (AP)—Science is preparing a plastic ball for the rubber-starved golfer.

The newly developed pellet already has been put through exhaustive laboratory and field tests and has proven itself 90 per cent as efficient as the present rubber, core-wound ball.

And there's nothing in the rule book which prohibits the new ball's use except the law of supply. It probably won't be manufactured for general distribution until after the war.

Joseph Day, executive secretary of the United States Golf association, said Tuesday that a ball was legal on the golf course as long as it didn't exceed 1.62 ounces in weight, 1.68 inches in diameter and didn't travel faster than 250 feet a second when tested on the USGA machine.

For Fun Experiment

Possibilities of the new pellet were discovered when a chemist made up some of the plastic and molded it into balls "just for the fun of it."

Some of them were sent to golf professionals, including Horton Smith. The pros posted their usual low scores but commented on the explosive noise made when the ball was struck and the "string" felt in the hands when an off-line shot was hit. The two complaints virtually have been eliminated in newer models.

Sees All-Service Teams For Sports

Chicago, Jan. 28 (AP)—"If the war lasts another year, this date in 1944 will see the major leagues in all sports composed of service teams," predicts Lieut. Jim McMillen.

McMillen, a former college and pro grid star, professional wrestler, vice president of the Chicago Bears and now athletic officer at Chicago's Navy pier, added:

"By this time next year, college and professional rosters will have been depleted to such an extent that I see no likelihood of those teams being able to operate. Then we in the athletic end of combat training will be faced with the obligation of helping maintain morale among civilians, especially war workers, by supplying their competitive sports attractions."

SHAUGHNESSY MAY BE NEXT PITT MENTOR

Pittsburgh, Pa. (AP)—Rays of hope that the University of Pittsburgh may return to the high place it once held in college football ranks brightened up the campus today as students awaited definite announcement of the choice of a big-name coach.

Jimmy Hagan, athletic director, said Head Coach Charlie Bowser's contract expires March 15 and that the 44-year-old veteran, here four years, expects to be in the Naval Reserves by that time.

Leading candidate to succeed him is Clark Daniel Shaughnessy, former Stanford mentor and widely known exponent of the "T" formation.

Pitt students believe Shaughnessy could clear the smog of frequent defeats the Panthers have suffered since Dr. John Bain (Doc) Sutherland resigned four years ago during a controversy over a big athletic deamphism which virtually ended subsidization of athletics.

Early Decision

Hagan said Shaughnessy "is the only coach we have considered."

In College Park, Md., Shaughnessy said he expected developments to reach a definite stage over the week-end.

Shaughnessy took over at the University of Maryland last year after two seasons at Stanford. His Stanford 1940 array won the Pacific Coast conference championship and beat Nebraska in the Rose bowl.

In 1940, while Shaughnessy was serving on the advisory staff of the Chicago Bears, the Bears used his "T" formation to annihilate the Washington Redskins, 73 to 0, to gain the national pro championship.

Maryland, in the football doldrums for years, won seven and lost two under his guidance.

Shaughnessy formerly coached at Chicago, Loyola of New Orleans, and Tulane. Before the first World war, he was a star tackle and fullback at the University of Minnesota.

Bowser did what he could under Pitt's de-amphism program. During his four-year reign his teams won 14, lost 20 and tied one. He had previously coached at Grove City (Pa.) and Bowdoin (Me.) colleges. He was an outstanding player on the Pitt teams of 1920-23.

GOMEZ HOPES FOR NEW LIFE IN BOSTON PARK

By BILL KING
Lexington, Mass., Jan. 27 (AP)—Now that he has recovered from the shock of being cast adrift by the fabulous New York Yankees, Vernon (Lefty) Gomez has high hopes that he, like many another aging pitcher before him, will find the "fountain of youth" that is supposed to be located within the spacious boundaries of Braves field.

Gomez, now 32, became involved in a major league deal for the first time in his 12-year career yesterday when the Yankees sold him to the Boston Braves after all club of the other American league clubs had waived on him.

Sees New Hope

"I was surprised, of course," the colorful southpaw said. "But I am convinced I still have enough stuff to be a winning pitcher and I'm looking forward to working in the Braves' big park. Those long foul lines sound very attractive. For the last couple of seasons the 201 and 295-foot left and right fields in the Yankee Stadium seemed much too short to me."

BULLETS HOLD LEAD THROUGH MOST OF GAME

A foul goal by Sams, substitute center, in the final seven seconds of play gave the strong Aberdeen Proving Grounds quintet a 43-42 victory over the Gettysburg college Bombers after a thrilling game here Saturday night which was played before a large crowd.

The Bombers lived up to all expectations and presented a snappy passing and shooting outfit that clearly showed the presence of several All-America college stars.

Moe Becker, ex-Duquesne ace and All-America, sparked the visitors with 17 points and contributed the punch to give the Bombers their victory drive in the final period.

Bullets Set Pace

Coach "Hen" Bream's team was far from over-awed by the high regarded soldier outfit and gave the Bombers one of their hardest battles. In fact, the Bombers led throughout most of the game and in the first minute of play in the last quarter led 37-29.

The game was only seconds old when Musi sank a long shot for Aberdeen. Welliver made good on the second of two fouls and Freedman looped a charity throw to tie the count. Welliver stabbed through a one-handed shot to send the Bombers ahead after three and a half minutes of play. Both teams played a hard game that grew rough in the first quarter. Romano netted a short toss and then Parnell connected on a long throw and Welliver on a short toss. Romano tallied twice from the foul line and Yovicsin netted a goal from beyond the foul line to give the Bombers a 10-6 margin in the first quarter.

Lead at Half

Becker opened the second period with two quick goals and then the teams battled furiously through the quarter with neither team being able to secure more than a few points lead. After the lead had changed hands several times, Davey Plank, who had relieved Haas at guard, flipped a one-handed overhead toss from the pocket to give Gettysburg a 20-17 half time margin.

Hopes soared for a Bullet win in the third period when Parnell and Haas landed goals and Plank sank a foul in the first minute and a half of play. However, the Bombers recovered on goals by Becker and Scharnus. Welliver and Tannebaum marched shots. A goal by Plank was sandwiched by a pair by Becker near the end of the third period which found the Bombers out in front 35-29.

The final period was packed with thrills from start to finish. After Yovicsin gave the locals their biggest margin on a long side shot shortly after the quarter started, the Bombers broke loose with four straight goals by Becker, Romano and a pair by Tannebaum to knot the score at 37-37 with seven and a half minutes of play remaining. Freedman converted a charity throw and the deadly shooting Becker ripped the net from mid-court. Yovicsin scored on a shot from beneath the hoop and Novak tied the score at 40-40 with five minutes to go.

It was clearly evident that the Bombers missed Welliver in the last minutes of play, the former Hazleton star having been ejected on fouls. No field goals were forthcoming in the final minutes as the teams played hard guarding games.

CONFESSION

Never as strong as we could be and should.
Always far short of our best we fall.
Never as gracious and never as good,
Much too content with the near-by and small.
Finding too late when the day's at an end
Gone is the chance time will never restore.
Deep down we know the record is penned
Somewhere or other we could have done more.

Striving for triumph, yet resting with less.
Seeking perfection, yet missing it far!
Counting some little achievement, success,
Ever evaders of glory we are.

Gifted for greatness yet fearing to try!
Born to be noble, yet failing the test!
Proud of well-doing, yet wondering why
Never we dare to live up to our best.

K. P.
Just about the time you think
You are good you're at the sink!
Washing saucers, cups and plates
Or you're peeling the "potatoes,"
Slicing cabbage into shreds
Sweeping floors and making beds!
In this war for liberty
It's your turn to do K. P.

When you fancy you're the tops
You are set to hauling slops;
Given a broom and mop and pail
And that's the humbling for a male.
As your friends go laughing by
"Take the garbage out!" they cry.
But next week they too will be Ordered out to do K. P.

Soldiers all, 'twould better be
Were this done to men like me.
If when pride begins to show
And we boast of what we know
And we think we're better far
Than less fortunate fellows are
Life, the brigadier, should see
We were made to do K. P.

AS FATHER DID
My father never thought it strange
To wear a shirt two days or more.
He never thought he ought to change
The socks he'd worn the day before.
Of suits he was content with two,
For work, the old; for best, the new.

My father often walked a mile
"To save the carfare," so he said.
But little heed he paid to style;
One hat for years adorned his head.
And, as my mother always told,
He loved a hat when it was old.

My father wasn't hard to please.
Of course, the times were different then.
He'd make a lunch of bread and cheese.
He never envied other men.
Did mother need an extra shelf?
My father put it up himself.

"The laundry failed to come," they say.
Most of the help to war has gone.
I'll wear this shirt again today,
Through yesterday I had it on.
Perhaps I'll learn before I'm through
A lot of tricks my father knew.

EASY CURE
Denver (AP)—The police ambulance rounded a corner very briskly indeed. So briskly, in fact, that up came the paper clip that 8-year-old Emma Lou Dudmott, the passenger, had swallowed.

Los Angeles (AP)—The burglar took $800 in cash and $1,600 in checks—and a porterhouse steak an inch and a half thick, cash owner Charles Morgan lamented to police.
There's almost a tear in his eye as he adds:
"... He broiled it on my own stove—and from the grease spots, he must have over-cooked it."

Flashes Of Life

SOUP, $10.20

Seattle, Wash. (AP)—William Needmyer got quite hungry, waiting for jurors to acquit him of game-law violation.
He'd just stepped across the street for his 20-cent bowl of soup when jurors returned.
They waited a half-hour for him to return, before they could free him.
Judge Chester A. Batchelor was hungry by that time, too. He fined Needmyer $10 for contempt.

HIS FLOCK

Gallatin, Mo. (AP)—A poultry farmer honored the Rev. and Mrs. Lelan Atkins.
Each couple brought a live pullet.

FORESIGHT

Salt Lake City (AP)—Maybe this burglar is planning on a return visit.
He broke into C. J. Samuel's garage and stole $25, an automatic pistol, some tools and the lock on the front door.

EXPLANATION

Chicago (AP)—Gertrude Lawrence and the cast of "Lady in the Dark" couldn't understand the sullen murmur through the audience in response to a line about a Sears-Roebuck catalog.
In the audience were 800 employees of Montgomery Ward, rival mail order firm.

ANYTHING ELSE, SIR?

Kansas City (AP)—Groceryman Joe Panaris told customer Roscoe Whaley the price of a small piece of pork.
Customer Whaley promptly fell to the floor in a faint.
Groceryman Panaris anxiously revived his customer, who assured him:
"It really wasn't the price of the meat. I'm subject to fainting spells."

JOIN THE NAVY AND SEE???

Topeka, Kas. (AP)—Gale Thompson of Topeka, dreaming of far-away lands, enlisted six months ago as a yeoman third class in the Navy.
He promptly was sworn in and ordered to recruiting duty at nearby Kansas City.
His long awaited transfer finally arrived. He was assigned to Topeka.

TRAVELER

Jameson, Mo. (AP)—The new war regulations have practically made a nomad out of farmer Clarence Caudy.
For 54 years he lived within 15 miles of Gallatin—but never once visited it.
He finally made the trip. He needed a sugar ration book.

WRONG HUNCH

Elkhart, Ind. (AP)—Local ration clerk told today of a "quiet little old lady" who turned in her sugar and coffee ration book a few weeks ago with the explanation: "I'm returning this because I won't be needing it any more." The little old lady returned, however, asking that her book be re-issued to her. She had another explanation. "I thought I was going to die," she said. "But I guess that fortune teller was wrong."

MIGHTY MITE

Charlotte, N. C. (AP)—When Dorothy Josephine Baumgarner saw one of those sizzling high-powered welding outfits, she was captivated. She has finished a NYA training course and a full fledged welder now, left to take a job in an airplane parts factory. Dorothy is 18 years old, four feet, four inches in height, and weighs 84 pounds.

FASTER, PLEASE!

Springfield, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. G. E. Campbell read in the paper that Fire Chief W. R. Price said citizens should not thaw out frozen pipes with blowtorches. She hurried to the kitchen to tell her husband about it. Flames were already flashing up the wall.

PIONEERS

Newark, N. J. (AP)—They blamed this one on the gasoline shortage, too.
Joseph Anello, 11, and Dominic Paris, 12, started out for Texas because, they told police, they had heard the horse was coming back and "Texas is the best place to learn to ride horses."

MILITARY SETBACK

New Britain, Conn. (AP)—U. S. Army aviators retreated on orders from higher-ups, in the face of an unexpected weapon.
The Bradley Field fliers were all in their uniforms, ready to have a whack at the New Britain Teachers' college basketball team, when word came not to play the game.
Headquarters had learned about a measles epidemic in New Britain.

SURPRISE!

Los Angeles (AP)—Mrs. Karl Nichols sat down with a surprised thump on a stool at her cash register, because the stranger blurted: "This is a holdup!"
He took from the cash register the $41 she'd started to count.
After he left Mrs. Nichols took from atop the stool the $200 she'd finished counting.

Dr. E. H. Markley Lauds Hospital As "Example Of Unselfish Cooperation"

Dr. E. H. Markley, president of the Annie M. Warner hospital, in an address before the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, at the Nurses' home, Monday afternoon, described the hospital as "the finest and truest example of unselfish, co-operative community work that can be conceived."

"It is a monument to the people of Adams county, working together for and in the interest of a worthy institution that has made, and continues to make, steady progress forward, and asks for nothing except the opportunity to serve the people that were generous and helpful to it by fulfilling its humane responsibilities to all, regardless of race, color, creed or financial rating."

Doctor Markley traced the 22-year history of the hospital and compared the first month's operation, April 1921, with December 1942. Whereas in the early years the average number of patients per day was 15 to 17, last month the daily average was 44. In April 1921, 51 patients were admitted and there were 32 operations and two accident cases. In December 1942, 159 patients were admitted, there were 88 operations, 769 laboratory examinations, 182 X-rays besides many blood transfusions, basal metabolisms, radium treatments, electrocardiograms and 69 accident cases, in spite of restricted travel.

Need Cooperation
"The comparison shows that the same hospital building, even though vastly superior in equipment and facilities, is called on today to render three and four times the service required of it a score of years ago," President Markley declared.

"Income has increased, naturally, in about the same proportions, but it is singularly true that the race between income and expenses is just as close today as it was 20 years ago. Hence, the hospital is just as dependent on the untiring work and the generous and unselfish efforts of the Women's Auxiliary as ever."

Dr. Markley said that state appropriations and appropriations from Adams county Commissioners absorb the operating deficits and that the hospital operation requires "exercise of the greatest care, economy and good management plus the active co-operation of the auxiliary, bridge clubs, civic organizations and public spirited citizens if we are to continue to carry on without each year asking the community for several thousands of dollars of operating funds as nearly all other hospitals find they must do."

The speaker paid tribute to the help given the hospital by organizations, industrialists and people of the county, saying, "As our services broadened so did our expenses and equipment requirements. But, help was never found wanting and if it was not the women's auxiliary, it was the fire company or the county firemen's association, or the industrialists or other benefactors that stepped into the breach and helped us out."

The hospital president described the late John D. Keith and Dr. J. McCrea Dickson as the individuals responsible, more than any others, "for what we have and what we are today."

Plans for Future
President Markley told of plans for the future. He said a fund has been established from gifts from Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Musselman, Biglerville, and the Gettysburg Elks in anticipation of installing new X-ray equipment when it is again available. He said replacements of expensive equipment are being anticipated by the establishment of reserve funds "which, though small, will reduce to the minimum what we must ask from the community when it is necessary to make these replacements."

"Our hospital represents a value of $135,000 in ground, buildings and equipment. This property, this great community asset, belongs to all of the people of Adams county. It was created over a score of years ago and it is the product of the efforts of people working together in a common cause."

"The success of the hospital belongs to many people and to many groups... our auxiliary, the doctors of the county, fraternal and civic organizations, clubs, men and women of great public spirit, the fire companies and the county firemen's association and the employees of the hospital who have been most loyal and most generous in their service in the interests of the institution."

"I look forward to a great future... a future which all of us can be proud... proud in the knowledge that our service to our fellow-beings and to our community is essential, fruitful and, best of all, is realized by co-operative and united efforts in a common cause."

Here And There
News Collected At Random

Seizure of gasoline ration books by OPA officials after stopping motorists in town and on nearby highways last Thursday night and early Friday morning has brought a wave of protests not only from those affected but from other motorists in Gettysburg.

The general consensus of opinion breasting the wave of denunciations here is this:

"By what authority has an OPA official the right to seize or confiscate a motorist's gasoline ration book without a fair and impartial hearing? Such methods and means smack of a dictatorship, typical of the procedure we have been reading about as prevailing in Germany under Hitler and his Gestapo."

The average motorist has accepted the decrees and edicts of the OPA as war-time emergencies. They accepted drastic orders rationing gas in a restricted area while other areas went untouched. They accepted decreases in the value of gas coupons. They said nothing when the OPA banned the sale of gasoline to A, B and C coupon holders for several days without an hour's warning.

These were emergency measures.

But when OPA officials come into a community, stop motorists on the streets and highways and "on the spot" seize and confiscate ration books because they, OPA officials, "believe" those motorists were using their cars for pleasure, the average American's resentment reaches a boiling point, and justifiably so.

In this country every man has the right to a fair trial before conviction and penalty, regardless of the charge, accusation or belief of any individual whether he be government official or not.

The average American feels and believes that any motorist who intentionally violates the pleasure-driving ban should be penalized... but not before he has been given the right of hearing.

It's patriotic to do your own housework!

That's what Uncle Sam has been preaching and that's what a lot of Gettysburg housewives are doing. But here's one instance where it backfired.

A prominent Gettysburg resident, following the suggestion of Uncle Sam, has been doing her own housework and all went well until Tuesday afternoon.

She decided to do some cleaning and before starting had removed a $125 piece of gold bridge work and placed it on a smoking stand. Then with electric sweeper humming she was doing a right smart job. All of a sudden, wham, the sweeper struck the smoking stand, knocked it to the floor and the bridge work was "sucked up" by the sweeper.

When retrieved the teeth had been knocked out of the casing and the gold bridge work was a tangled mass... the price of this war-time economy is $125.

Just to keep check on himself and to safeguard against possible questioning of his legitimate gasoline requirements Joseph E. Codori has adopted a novel idea. He maintains a complete log of every trip he makes in his car... and all these trips, he says, are legitimate business trips. "If I'm ever questioned about my gasoline I've got the complete record," he says. When A. E. Hutchison heard of the scheme he said to Mr. Codori: "Joe, if that's not patented I'd like to use the idea myself."

Little Jeannie Mountain, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Walter S. Mountain, West Broadway, is chuck full of patriotism and she'll do anything to help win this war. Recently, when she heard that Uncle Sam wanted all pennies turned in because of a copper shortage she served notice on her parents that she was going to "clean house"... and she did. From various penny banks she collected more than four hundred pennies and then "touched" her father for some "additional" cash... Then she had her dad take her to the post office where she purchased enough war stamps to fill another book which she exchanged for a war bond. Nice going, Jeannie!

The War department has not awarded a contract for the construction of a new airport in Gettysburg and none is contemplated for this area.

The Navy department is not aware of any proposed airport here or in this vicinity.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration is not concerned about a new airport in this locality.

The above statements are made after considerable contacts had been made with various agencies and through the cooperation of The Associated Press which has been contacting every available bureau and department in Washington having anything to do with such projects. The statements from the three departments were issued this morning.

For many weeks countless rumors have been circulating here that an airport was to be constructed in the Bonneauville-Two Taverns-White Hall area. All efforts of The Gettysburg Times to confirm these rumors have been in vain.

Within the last few days one of these rumors cited the name of the construction firm that had been awarded the contract. Offices of that firm announced that they "knew nothing" about the airport

NURSES' AIDES INDUCTED INTO DEFENSE CORPS

Eleven nurses' aides were received into the civilian defense corps of Adams county at public exercises held Monday evening in the court house here.

The induction ceremony was conducted by Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the county council of defense, for the aides, all of whom have been trained at the Warner hospital during the last year under the sponsorship of the local Red Cross chapter.

In a short talk, Judge Sheely welcomed the aides into a defense organization that includes 5,000 countians. He lauded the cooperation of the public in the various tests that have been held and at the same time he commended the county for its response to the salvage and bond drives. He closed by emphasizing that Adams countians will unite "when there is work to be done."

Six Receive Pins

Preceding the induction ceremony, Mrs. Elsie Singmaster Lewars presented Red Cross pins to the six nurses' aides who completed the second class at the Warner hospital. Those who received pins: Mrs. Dorothy Riffle, Miss Dorothy Foth, Miss Virginia Hershey, Mrs. Margaret Krick, Mrs. Hazel Justin and Mrs. Pauline Fry. Mrs. Glenn Sachs, supervisor of nurses at the hospital, instructed the aides.

The first nurses' aide class received pins and caps in May of last year. This group included Miss Roseanna Marie Cromer, Mrs. Mazie Henderson, Mrs. Mildred Murray, Mrs. Elsie Mason and Mrs. Frances Bisbing.

The group inducted into the defense organization comprised the five aides listed above in the 1942 class and the six who have completed the 1943 course.

Chairman Expresses Appreciation

Mrs. Lewars, who is chairman of the Adams county Red Cross chapter, expressed appreciation for the work the 11 aides are going. She indicated that the Red Cross activities in the county have reached their peak in providing this number of aides.

Recalling the influenza epidemic of the first World War, Mrs. Lewars said that much suffering probably could have been averted had civilians had the advantage of nurses' aide training then.

May Serve Military Hospitals

Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, who is chairman of the Red Cross committee supervising the nurses' aide project, announced that aides are permitted now to serve in military hospitals as volunteers. She expressed the thanks of the Red Cross to Mrs. Sachs for her voluntary supervision of the classes. She also disclosed that the aides have been performing many duties at the Warner hospital.

Mrs. Sachs indicated Monday evening that another class for aides will be organized if the necessary number of volunteers can be enrolled.

Weddings

Yoder—Currens

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Julia M. Currens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Currens, Fairfield, and Carl E. Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yoder, Ottumwa. The ceremony was performed in Baltimore Saturday morning. A few friends and relatives attended.

The bride graduated from Gettysburg high school last June. Mr. Yoder graduated from Fairfield high school and attended several aeronautical schools. Mr. and Mrs. Yoder are employed at the Glen L. Martin company, Baltimore.

NURSE WRITES ABOUT LIFE IN NORTH AFRICA

The following letter was received by Mrs. Russell Stoops, Gettysburg R. 4, from her sister Lieutenant Frances Johnson, Army Nurse's Corps, a native of near Fairfield, who is now on duty in northern Africa:

"Am gradually getting around to letters for everyone. I'm afraid I write pretty much the same thing to all the family.

"We had a pleasant, uneventful voyage here. Our life preservers were our most precious possessions aboard ship and we were never without them. Of course we had boat drill every day and a few scares thrown in for excitement. The food was excellent and I enjoyed it. We had a bad storm one afternoon which caused not a few of us to be quite seasick for a few hours. Other than that I was a good sailor and rather enjoyed the sunshine and fresh air.

Xmas Dinner

"We had a delicious turkey dinner with all the fixins' for Christmas and we sang Christmas carols until we were hoarse. We really worked hard at having a happy holiday and I'm sure none of us will ever forget Christmas Day.

"We have been living in tents since we've been here. The mud much of the time has been to our boot tops. It was quite difficult at first but it apparently agrees with us for we've been well.

"We have plenty to eat but not much variety. Much of the food is canned. The powdered eggs and dehydrated potatoes are really quite tasty. A pint of water furnishes a luxurious bath and that has been a difficult situation. We have no stoves except a tiny one in the mess tent and so are not exactly what you would call immaculate. Our metal helmets serve as wash basins and baskets for shopping. Citrus fruits are plentiful so we can buy the most luscious tangerines and oranges I've ever eaten. Olives grow in our backyards and vineyards are everywhere. The country which I have seen is quite beautiful with its rolling hills. I have never seen palms so large or beautiful as those which grow here.

Picturesque Oran

"I have visited the city of Oran and it is quite picturesque. There are many beautiful buildings, ornate with fancy metal balconies above the first story. The French population seem quite prosperous. They dress well, especially the women. Of course French is spoken by everyone. The many military uniforms add much color to the city. The French Foreign Legion wear the red fez and their khaki uniforms are trimmed in scarlet. Of course the native Arabs are most interesting in their white cloaks and gayly colored turbans. Many Arab women wear veils, white or material which I should say was once white. The women seen on the streets without veils have their faces tattooed. They are the beggar-type, filthy and show evidence of horrible disease. These and the ragged children go barefoot no matter what the temperature may be—and believe me this section of Africa is no hot climate at this season. One can buy very little as everything is rationed and of course we really need nothing in the way of wearing apparel as we wear uniforms all the time.

"We have been living in slacks and wearing men's overalls and shoes which we get through our commissary. "I am finding all this quite interesting. Our hospital is being made ready in buildings and we hope to be able to work soon. We shall have a building to live in too, and a matress to sleep on, we are told. That will be real luxury.

Letters To The Editor

England

Dear Sirs:

I've been in the Army now for almost two years and it is very generous of you to have sent me The Gettysburg Times which I enjoy reading a lot. It helps me to keep up with the news back home. I've been overseas for quite a while now and I'm enjoying every moment of my stay here so far. The English people overwhelm me with their generosity. They go out of their way lots of times to make me American boys feel as though we were at home. Ask them to do you a favor, and no sooner said than done.

Oh, yes, the kids over here are always after us for souvenirs such as our money, buttons, and pins we have on our uniforms. Another thing they always want is our candy and chewing gum. This is what I have had a couple of youngsters say to me while walking on the streets, "Hey Mister" or "Hey Yankee" or something of the sort, "Got any candy or chewing gum?" Then if you said no, the kid would say in a quiet tone of voice, "How about a penny then? Could you give me one?" Well, if you said no it would break their heart. In some cases you must say no because you may not have any for yourself.

I had a very nice Christmas despite not being at home. I spent Christmas Day at the English home of the girl I go with over here and I really enjoyed myself a lot. The family treat me as if I were their own son. Maybe some day I will be, who knows? Their name is Miller and the girl I go with a very nice young lady. Her name is Cecilia.

Well, I guess I've said enough so I'll close sending all my best wishes to the folks back home and hoping they will keep America as beautiful as she always was. And remember folks, fight to the finish. This war cannot last forever, do your part as we do ours.

Yours Truly,

Pvt. John H. Lawrence.

Dear Sir:

Would like to take this opportunity to thank you for sending me The Gettysburg Times Service Edition. We boys here in camp are sure glad to hear some of the news from back home, because it makes us feel that we are really not so far away if we can sit down and read an item from our local paper.

The boys here who don't receive your paper will sure be glad to read mine because they feel the same way I do when they know what is going on back in the home town. We boys here in Port McClellan are putting everything we have into this job so that we may be able to come back to a peaceful place to live in and with a future to look forward to.

Thanking you again for your paper and interest in we boys at camp.

PVT. BERNARD F. HARMON

Fort McClellan, Alabama

File Appeal In Land Case

The first appeal from the findings of one of the eight boards of viewers which submitted reports in the Western Maryland relocation damage cases west of New Oxford in court on January 4 was filed at the office of Prothonotary Lee M. Hartman Wednesday.

The affidavit in support of an appeal was filed by John P. Butt, Esq., as counsel for Mrs. Frank R. Heverly, Gettysburg R. D. An appeal is being taken from the amount of damages awarded by the board "because the claimant believes in justice has been done." Mr. Butt's affidavit states.

Mrs. Heverly was awarded $950 damages to her property. At the hearing held last fall before the board of viewers, Mrs. Heverly valued her property at $4,000 before the railroad was relocated. Estimates presented at the hearing by other witnesses placed a value of about $1,100 after the land was taken.

The board's report, signed by P. S. Orner and H. S. Thomas, was given preliminary approval by the court on January 4. It would have been confirmed finally in 30 days if no appeal had been taken.

"Real Thing" Is Different From Training, Countian Writes After Raid On Wake

"The real thing is different from the combat training I took back in the states," George E. Hollabaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hollabaugh, Biglerville, who is now a flying engineer on a U. S. Liberator bomber in the Pacific, wrote to his parents after he returned from a bombing attack on Wake island several weeks ago.

Hollabaugh's bomber was struck by enemy fire during the Wake island raid, but "we all came back O.K.," he wrote.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollabaugh last week received a letter from their son, dated January 4, which follows in part:

"I don't know what happened, but last night I got fourteen letters. That is the first I heard from you all for over two weeks and believe me that is a long time when you have not been home for more than a year.

"News that would be of interest to you is very scarce here and I hardly know what to write. I guess you have all heard and read a lot about the big blow we gave Wake island. I bet you didn't know however that I helped to do the job.

"Yep, I was with the squadron and no one was lost or even hurt. We all came back to base O.K. Not so bad, was it? When we did get back and examined the bombers, we did find some close calls. My plane had a bullet hole through it and believe me that is plenty close enough for comfort.

"The real thing is different from the combat training I took back in the States. Out here it is a case of playing marbles for keeps.

"If it takes all of this to win this war then I am ready to take my place and do my bit each day. Well, I guess you have read all about it so there is no need of my writing you further about this episode."

George Hollabaugh was graduated from Biglerville high school in 1937 and then studied at the Carlisle Commercial Business college. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps in December, 1941, and took six months of basic training at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, Texas. He graduated there and received his diploma from the U. S. Sleigh Ride: Our good-natured friend, Nicholas Weaver, who is in the habit of doing clever things, on one of the bright sunny days of the past week, sent word to the offices and children of the National Orphan's Home, that it was his purpose to treat them to a sleigh ride. In due time some four or five huge sleighs, capacious enough to receive all connected with the establishment appeared at the Homestead, marshalled by Mr. Weaver himself, the horses gaily decked with flags and everything calculated to delight the little ones. As the large cavalcade passed through our streets, with the merry jingle of the bells and the joyous notes of the singing children, it attracted much attention. We believe this is the third ride that Mr. Weaver has given the orphan children, and we are requested on behalf of the officers of the Institution and the children to return to him their most cordial thanks.
